Tithis & characteristics

Tithi

Tithi is a lunar day of varying duration, solely dependent on the speed of Moon on the day concerned in traversing a distance of 12° from the point where the previous tithi ended. Broadly speaking, a tithi may be said to equal a day (24 hours).

How to determine Tithi

Method I

Ascertain from Raphael's Ephemeris, the degree on which Sun is standing on the day of New Moon. The time taken by Moon to cover the distance of 12° therefrom, constitutes Pradhama (the first lunar day). Dwiteeya (2nd lunar day) will be the time taken by Moon to cover the next 12° from the degree on which Sun is standing at the close of Pradhama (1st lunar day). Similarly, Thriteeya (3rd lunar day) has to be arrived at by adding the time taken by Moon to cover 12° from where Sun was standing at the close of Dwiteeya. Likewise, other tithis have to be worked out. In other words, the tithi has to be worked out every day with reference to the degree occupied by Sun. That is to say, if Moon is within the first 12° from Sun on any day, that will be the first lunar day - Pradhama, the next 12° from Sun on the day of reckoning - Dwiteeya and so forth, until you finish 14 lunar days and the 15th one will be the Full Moon day - Poornima. The 15 lunar days are contained within the bright half; Pradhama commencing at New Moon and Full Moon ending when Sun and Moon are 180° apart. From then on, starts the dark half and the tithis are again called Pradhama (1st lunar day), Dwiteeya (2nd lunar day) and so on till the 14th lunar day is over and the 15th one is called Amavasya, which ends when exact conjunction of Sun and Moon ends and the New Moon is given in the ephemeris.

If you wish to find out on what tithi a person is born, find out the distance between Sun and Moon - if it is below 180°, the birth is said to be in the bright half and if it happens to be greater than 180°, then the birth is said to be in the dark half. Dividing the distance in degrees by 12, find out in which 12° division Moon is, and that indicates the lunar day at birth.

For example, assuming Sun at 15° Pisces and Moon in Scorpio at 29°; the distance is 254°, divided by 12, we find that Moon is in the 22nd 12 degree division or the 7th lunar day Saptami in the dark half.

Method II

The two halves (bright and dark) comprise of 30 lunar days, the total duration of which is equal to the time taken by Moon to traverse from one New Moon to the next New Moon. In finding the tithi, the distance in ° between these two points has to be divided by 30 and the time taken by Moon to cover each division becomes a lunar day. This distance will be found to be 389° / 390° divided by 30 = 13° . The time taken by Moon to cover every 13° division from the previous New Moon constitutes a tithi. Since the speed of Moon is never constant, the time taken by Moon in traversing the $^{1}/_{30}$th division is also not constant; hence the tithis are of varying duration.

The difference between the first and the second method is, that in the 1st method, we add 12° to the point occupied by Sun whereas in the 2nd method, we add 13° per tithi (12° for the tithi and 1° to cover the speed of Sun per day).

These methods of finding tithi may not be exact, but may safely be used by those who don't have access to Indian almanacs.

It will be observed that the Sages have assigned similar effects for births in Pradhama when Moon is waxing and Pradhama in the dark half when Moon is waning, even though for an onlooker, it appears that Moon in the former is weak with few rays and the in the latter, Moon looks nearly full & strong. Apparently, the reason is, Moon on Pradhama in the bright half is growing, above horizon, while in the latter case, Moon is waning and will be below the horizon when Sun happens to be above the horizon. It has also been stated by the Sages that benefic results will be more prominent for births in the bright half and that malefic results will be more prominent for births in the dark half. Tithis have more to do with angles formed by Moon in its various phases towards the Sun. It is significant to note that in Western Astrology, oppositions between planets are considered malefic and treated with some amount of contempt, whereas in Hindu Astrology, in this particular case as well as in a number of others, the day prior to the exact opposition between Sun and Moon is considered most auspicious, not only for births but also for conducting marriages, coronations etc.

Colloquially LAGAN means marriage in several vernaculars in India but in Sanskrit, it means Ascendant. The object of conducting marriages when an auspicious Asc is rising, is to ensure that, the couple enjoy maximum prosperity, beget children and continue to remain faithful to each other as Lord Rama and Sita. The amount of importance attached to both, the Asc rising at birth as also the Asc fixed for marriages and other auspicious functions is the same.

According to the great book on Horary Astrology, PRASNA MARGA, if an Asc is rising with the benefic aspect of Jupiter and the lords of Asc and 10th are connected in some way, all undertakings done at that time would succeed. Taking a cue from the above, the author has been experimenting for a couple of decades, carrying out all his important actions such as journeys, petitions, entry into jobs, important journeys etc. on an auspicious tithi, star and when an Asc with aspect of Jupiter is rising and lords of Asc and 10th are interconnected (as far as possible). Depending upon the powerful nature of Asc and other astrological factors then prevailing, he has always enjoyed some measure of success, subject only to minor variations due malefic major / sub periods operating or inauspicious transits with reference to his own birth star.

By reference to the Nakshatra Phala, particularly para 7 under each star For EVERYBODY, and tithi phala, find out if the ruling star and tithi are good; then fix-up a suitable Asc on the above lines and go ahead with your appointed undertaking. There will then be fewer chances of failure; at least you will not get totally disappointed and won't have the opportunity to curse yourself or say "Look at my bad luck".

Caution: May I warn my readers that this sort of timing of events / undertakings should be only for morally good purposes and NOT with evil intentions or going against the will of the Lord.

Malefic constellations

Birth of a child in particular quarters of certain constellations, Nakshatra Pada brings in misfortune / death to the parents and sometimes to the child itself. These are listed below:

Constellation	Death / Misfortune to
Aswini
1st Quarter:	Parents
Bharani
3rd Quarter:	Child
4th Quarter:	If it's a boy - misfortune / death to father If it's a girl - misfortune / death to mother
Krittika
2nd Quarter:	If it's a boy - father
3rd Quarter:	If it's a girl - mother
Rohini
2nd Quarter:	Father
3rd Quarter:	Mother
Ardra
2nd Quarter:	Misfortune in general
Pushya
1st Quarter:	Child
2nd Quarter:	Mother
3rd Quarter:	Father
4th Quarter:	Mother's brother

Note: DOSHA PHALA (malefic effects) by reason of birth in this star will cease after 3 months from date of birth. Birth in Pushya star combined with Cancer Ascendant strongly indicates early death of father.

Ashlesha
2nd Quarter:	Child. According to another authority, financial losses
3rd Quarter:	Mother
4th Quarter:	Parents

Note: DOSHA PHALA (malefic effects) will cease after 9 months.

Magha

Gandantha Dosha

The last 4 ghatikas, 96 minutes of the stars Jyeshta, Ashlesha, Revati and first 4 ghatikas of stars Aswini, Magha and Moola are said to constitute GANDANTHA, which is highly inauspicious for the longevity of the parents.

According to SARWARTHA CHINTAMANI, births in the 1st quarter of Gandantha will result in early death of Mother
2nd quarter – Father
3rd quarter - Child and
4th quarter - Brothers.

According to another view, birth in Gandantha coinciding with the junction of sunset & nightfall OR night & sunrise, the child suffers misfortune. Gandantha and night coinciding, misfortune to mother. Gandantha & daytime coinciding, misfortune to father.

Nakshatra Chakra & Phala

Just as the 12 signs beginning from Aries are said to correspond to various organs of Kaala Purusha, the 27 stars are also said to correspond to certain organs of Kaala Purusha. For instance, the 3 stars Hastha, Chitra, Swati, are said to correspond to the Head of Kaala Purusha; Visakha, Anuradha, Jyeshta - face & so on.

a. the arrangement of stars thus made
b. important characteristics of a native
c. longevity of a native
Under this set-up are indicated here below:

Note on transits

Transit effects

The actual conferment of good / bad effects on a native is done by a planet during transit and knowledge of Gochara Phala or Transit effects is essential for forecasting correctly the future of nativities. There is a strong belief among the South Indian astrologers that irrespective of whichever planet is the giver or bestower of auspicious / inauspicious effects on a native, the act of conferment is done by Sun, Moon or Jupiter.

It is said that it is one of these three planets that for instance, puts a man on the throne and that either the same planet or one of the other two also brings him down or throws him into exile. Assuming for a moment that Jupiter's Major Period is in operation for a native with Pisces as Ascendant and Leo as Moon-sign, no doubt the native enjoys an elevated position professionally during Jupiter's major Period for Jupiter happens to be lord of both Asc and 10th. The elevation professionally does not occur on the day the Major Period starts. It commences on a particular date when Sun or Moon passes through say exaltation sign of Jupiter (Cancer), 10th from Asc or Moon, the navamsa sign occupied by Jupiter or lord of 10th.

Conjunction / opposition between Sun, Moon, Jupiter or Jupiter aspects Sun / Moon. Auspicious effects will occur when such transits take place. Inauspicious results follow when Sun, Moon pass through their debilitation sign or debilitation sign of Jupiter or 6th, 8th, 12th sign or bitter enemy's house.

In short, all malefic and benefic effects a native suffers / enjoys, death, birth, marriage, professional elevation, earnings, losses, imprisonments, renunciation and every action of a human being is caused or created by planets concerned but these are actually showered on nativities by Sun or Moon (the two Raja Grahas or Kingly planets) and Jupiter also in equal measure. The same analogy holds good for Major Period / Sub period effects. The lord of Major Period may be Saturn or Rahu but the malefic / benefic effects conferrable by Saturn / Rahu will be conferred on the native by Sun, Moon or Jupiter by transit.

Having ascertained from a horoscope that a native is destined to enjoy a certain aspect of life say birth of a son and having also ascertained that he stands to get it in a Major Period and in a sub period, it would be discovered later that the gift of son actually arrives when Sun, Moon or Jupiter occupy particular positions with reference to father's horoscope. The moment of arrival of the gift depends on Sun / Moon / Jupiter, not only in this case but in all cases of human lives.

For these reasons, knowledge of transit effects is all the more important for ascertaining the correct timing of events.

To assess transit effects, one has to know the star on which Moon was standing in birth chart. In whichever sign Moon was standing that becomes the Janma Rasi (Moon-sign) of the native and counting of the position of planets have to be done from that sign. The transit effects of various planets (when they occupy positions counted from Moon-sign) are detailed here.

It is now necessary to find out the strength with a particular planet traversing through a sign

- whether it is passing through exaltation, own house, enemy house etc.
- what strength that planet possesses in Ashta Varga so that we could roughly determine the quantum of benefic / malefic effects
- the only known method approved by sages available in Hindu Astrology is through the Ashta Varga methodology which has been explained in details Ashta Varga Phala, another work by writer.

People not well-versed in astrology opine that a man suffers or enjoys according to Major / Sub periods and that good and bad cannot simply be forecast from transits. While Major Period effects have to be adjusted with reference to the then prevailing transits of planets, the latter if properly and dispassionately studied with an eye on the vedha positions, is the first effective means of roughly knowing whether a man stands to gain / loose, suffer / enjoy at a given point of time. That is to say, if transit effects and Major / Sub Period effects are considered together and necessary adjustments made, we could know the good / bad effects with amount of accuracy. The effects so obtained if filtered through Ashta Varga, we could get still finer results. If you want to be still more accurate, find out if the event predicted is justifiable for the get-up of the horoscope with reference to benefic / malefic Yogas (planetary mappings) operating and planets involved in a particular Yoga. In other words, the quantum of effects has to be measured not only with reference to the Ashta Varga methodology but also with reference to Yogas. Weightage should also be given to other factors like the community of the native, profession, standing, country and the times in which he is living. The last (times) has reference to the standard of living and the period of strife, famine / prosperity that a country may be passing through.

Transit effects based on signs

Transit effects of SUN

SUN passing through Moon sign (in birth chart)

Minor upsets to health and upset of mental equilibrium; untimely meals; misunderstandings or arguments with friends / relatives.

SUN passing through 2nd of Moon sign

Fear; want of liquid cash; acquaintance / friendship with undesirables; sorrow; diseases on head; financial losses in business or agricultural pursuits or in the profession of the native.

SUN passing through 3rd of Moon sign

Good health; incentive or push daily; meeting relatives and friends; financial gains; happiness through children; success in endeavors.

SUN passing through 4th of Moon sign

Disrespect; mental worries; quarrels within family; troubles; upsets to planned ventures; unforeseen obstacles whilst on journey.

SUN passing through 5th of Moon sign

Fear; minor upsets to health; mental worries; expenses on account of relatives and friends; mentally a bit off balance.

SUN passing through 6th of Moon sign

Defeat of enemies; success in endeavors; good health; incentive; enjoying new clothes; financial / agricultural gains.

SUN passing through 7th of Moon sign

Misunderstandings with friends / relatives; bodily upsets and worries to wife and children; dullness; failures in undertakings.

SUN passing through 8th of MOON-sing

Diseases; troubles of various sorts; increase of enemies; receipt of unhappy news; fruitless travels.

SUN passing through 9th of Moon sign

Disrespect; quarrels; avoidable expenses; losses; mental worries; various troubles.

SUN passing through 10th of Moon sign

Good health; company of friends / relatives; success in endeavors connected with profession; meeting important people; interviews and contacts regarding governmental affairs / profession; bodily comforts; financial gain.

SUN passing through 11th of Moon sign

Monetary gains; auspicious functions; enjoying Sweet dishes; bodily comforts.

SUN passing through 12th of Moon sign

Frequent travels or change in environments; sickness to close relatives; various expenses and troubles; disrespect; in other words, almost malefic results in toto.

It will be observed from the above that SUN is capable of conferring auspicious results when passing through 3rd, 6th, 10th and 11th from MOON. It should be noted that such auspicious results will occur subject to there being no planet in the corresponding VEDHA / obstruction sign, which are as follows:

A planet in	9th	from Moon sign will cause VEDHA to SUN in the	3rd
	12th		6th
	4th		10th
	5th		11th

According to another school of thought, auspicious results will be reaped in FULL and without fail if, when SUN is passing through 3rd , 6th , 10th , 11th , he is opposed by Saturn (the latter transiting 9th , 12th , 4th , 5th respectively).

Planets other than Saturn opposing SUN will cause VEDHA and therefore, no auspicious results can occur; some even say malefic results will occur such as journeys, rheumatism, fever, failures, and bitterness with parents.

Transit effects of MOON

MOON passing through the sign occupied by it in birth-chart

Freedom from bodily troubles; good health; happiness; money; push; enjoying good food; happiness with opposite sex; presents.

MOON passing through the 2nd of Moon sign

Mental worry; losses; inauspicious results generally; sickness; having to consume inferior quality / ill-cooked food.

MOON passing through the 3rd of Moon sign

Monetary gain; new clothes; incentive; courage; company of women.

MOON passing through the 4th of Moon sign

Bitterness with friends / relatives; mental upsets; failures in undertakings; inauspicious results.

MOON passing through the 5th of Moon sign

Rheumatic pains; ill-health; mental worry; fear; failures in undertakings.

MOON passing through the 6th of Moon sign

Family happiness; good health; financial gains; reputation; happiness generally; happiness with ladies; helping others.

MOON passing through the 7th of Moon sign

Mentally a happy state of affairs; increased respect; prosperity; bodily comforts; happiness with ladies and other auspicious occurrences; particularly financial gains.

MOON passing through the 8th of Moon sign

Indigestion and troubles connected therewith; pains in regions below the knee; bodily ailments; untimely meals; indifferent health; various troubles; fear of life during adverse major / sub periods. When MOON passes through the 8th of Moon sign, it is also called Chandraashtama.

MOON passing through the 9th of Moon sign

Opportunities of chiding children; misunderstandings at home; stay in others' places; indifferent health; loss of clothes; quarrels; troubles; punishment from King / Gov.

MOON passing through the 10th of Moon sign

Success in the desired direction; good health; relatives get pleased; happy meals; happiness generally and financial gains.

MOON passing through the 11th of Moon sign

Mentally a happy state of affairs; pleasantness; enjoying feasts with relatives; financial / agricultural gains; all round gains.

MOON passing through the 12th of Moon sign

Mental upsets; disrespect; expenses; misunderstandings with relatives; delays; troubles.

MOON is good enough when transiting 1st, 3rd, 6th , 7th , 10th and 11th from the sign occupied by it in the birth-chart and is capable of conferring auspicious results when the corresponding VEDHA signs are free from occupation.

A planet in	5th	of Moon sign will cause VEDHA to MOON in the	1st
	9th		3rd
	12th		6th
	2nd		7th
	4th		10th
	8th		11th

As stated under SUN, there is a school of thought which says that Mercury should occupy the sign of Vedha for FULL beneficial results to materialize and that, any other planet occupying the Vedha sign would result in negative results.

Transit effects of MARS

MARS passing through the sign occupied by MOON in the birth-chart

Transit effects based on stars

Transit effects of planets

based on

Anga Graha Stithi

Just as we find the transit effects of planets with reference to the sign occupied by the Moon in the birth chart, the transit effects of planets in minute details can be found with reference to the star occupied by Moon in the birth chart. Just as the twelve signs beginning from Moon-sign are allotted the 12 divisions of Kaala Purusha, the 27 stars are likewise said to correspond to the various limbs of Kaala Purusha starting from the birth star. The essential difference between the two systems is that, whilst in the former, signs are taken into consideration whereas in the latter, stars are taken into consideration.

Planets when they pass over certain stars / group of stars, they are considered to go over certain limbs of the Kaala Purusha for which the corresponding effects are given below, as given in Kerala Shastra, which is practiced in South India.

SUN

Star	Anga (limb)	Effects
1st Star	Face	Destruction
2 – 5	Head	Prosperity
6 – 9	Chest	Success
10 – 13	Right hand	Income
14 – 19	Feet	Loss of money
20 – 23	Left hand	Upsets to health
24 – 25	Eyes	All round gains
26 – 27	Anus	Serious sickness

Example: When Sun transits over the 2nd , 3rd , 4th and 5th stars counted from the birth star, Sun is said to pass over the face of the individual and the resulting effect of such transit is prosperity. If in Sun's Ashta Varga, there are good numbers of bindus on these stars, the effects will be strongly enjoyed by the native.

MOON

Star	Anga (limb)	Effects
1 – 2	Face	Increased fear
3 – 6	Head	Well being
7 – 8	Back	Win over enemies
9 – 10	Eyes	Financial gains
11 – 15	Chest	Mental happiness, enjoyments
16 – 17	Left hand	Enmities
18 – 23	Feet	Stay in others' places
24 – 27	Right hand	Financial gains

MARS

Star	Anga (Limb)	Effects
1 -2	Face	Unhappy news
3 – 8	Feet	Enmities
9 – 11	Neck	Success
12 – 15	Left hand	Loss of money
16 – 17	Head	Gain
18 – 21	Face	Fear
22 – 25	Right hand	Well being
26 – 27	Eyes	Travels

MERCURY, JUPITER, VENUS

Star	Anga (limb)	Effects
1 – 3	Head	Sorrow
4 – 6	Face	Gains
7 – 12	Hands	Gains
13 – 17	Belly	Adverse happenings
18 – 19	Anus	Income
20 – 27	Legs	Destruction

E.g. Mercury, Jupiter, Venus - when any one or more of the benefics traverse stars 4 to 12 counted from the Birth Star, the native will enjoy all round gains.

SATURN, RAHU & KETU

Star	Anga (limb)	Effects
1st Star	Face	Sorrow
2 – 5	Left hand	Happiness
6 – 8	Right hand	Travel
9 – 11	Left leg	Destruction
12 – 15	Right leg	Gains
16 – 20	Belly	Enjoyments
21 – 23	Head	Happiness
24 – 25	Eyes	Well being
26 – 27	Back	Fear / fear of death

Shanti - remedial measures

Remedial measures for malefic transits or

Graha Chara Dosha Shanty

The periods when
Sun passes through the 12th from Moon sign
Moon 8th
Mars 7th
Mercury 7th
Jupiter 3rd
Venus 6th
Saturn Moon sign
Rahu Moon sign
Ketu Moon sign

and Elrata (seven and half year) Saturn besides Kandaka Sani are particularly bad for the natives concerned.

Sages advise that when such adverse transits take place:

- going about on errands / business etc. at untimely / odd hours
- hunting
- attempting things beyond one's control OR going on a wild goose chase
- riding / handling animals
- long distance journeys or Yatra
- stay in other's house or thrusting oneself as an uninvited guest
- journeys and adventures involving an element of risk

should be AVOIDED.

As a remedy to offset the malefic transit effects, Sages advise that we stick to our daily routine, take morning bath, observe religious injunctions, visit temples / churches / mosques / dargahs and other holy places on auspicious days like Amavasya, listen to religious / divine discourses, chant hymns or prayers, see ARDRA star, give charity and religious offerings, adopt an attitude of sympathy towards beggars and the disabled lot.

The following are the two of the easiest mantras / hymns (Sanskrit) through which the Hindus offer their salutations to the planetary deities:

- Om Aadityayacha, Somaaya, Mangalaaya, Budhaayacha, Guru Shukra Shanibhyashcha, Rahavey, Ketavey Namaha.
- Om Suryaadi Sarwa Grahaandhar Yaminae Srimath Kaaliya Mardhanaaya Namaha.

Repeating one or both of these a number of times and having darshan (seeing in reverence) of the planetary deities, is itself one form of prayer and some partial remedy for the malefic transit effects.

HOW DO YOU READ A HOROSCOPE?

This note is dated October 31st, 1961*

Because many a prediction made by students of Astrology fail (the most recent and glaring one being that of election of president John F. Kennedy for one reason or another, the reasons for which they are unable to detect, it is but natural they get dejected and go about asking professionals How do you read a horoscope?

I shall, therefore, detail in this note, some of the apparent causes of failure of predictions made by many, as I have been able to guess from my experience. I am also detailing the various items of information, tables etc. based on which an opinion could be expressed on a horoscope.

First and foremost, both the student and the professional, must have implicit faith in God. Maharishi Parashara says, in the first six Slokas of his immortal astrological classic BRIHAT PARASHARA HORA, this is NOT a science for those who:

(1) learn astrology with a view to minting money with the help of Grahas and thus change their present plight; or
(2) want to test the correctness; or
(3) desire to change the status of a horoscope by knowing its weakness and perform shanties to overcome such weakness and thus jump over the purpose of creation; or
(4) desire to go against the Will of God.

Actually, this science is for those who implicitly believe in God and sayings like BUDHI KARMAANU SARENA and so on. Just as we believe that every pot of milk we buy contains ghee, we should not doubt the Hand of God behind each horoscope. Credit goes to a Hindu Astrologer of Bombay who at the end of 19th Century, had the rare courage to forecast beggary in the 50th year of a native, who was only a babe in arms then, with an estate to his share of the order rupees fifty lakhs. The writer knew the native of that horoscope intimately. Not only did the prediction come true 100% but the writer was able to witness how the saying BUDHI KARMAANU SARENA worked. One has to read a horoscope impartially, with an unbiased mind and the horoscope details should be approached in an inquiring mood with utmost respect to the Grahas and not as if one is going to do a simple arithmetic calculation.

Almost all the maharishis of India including those who have compiled the Maha Vakya, Maha Bharata, Ramayana, Veda, Vedanta and Gita have certified and assured us that Astrology is the LIGHT with which one can read the AKSHARA MALIKA (garland of letters) written by Lord Brahma on the forehead of everyone, said to be the gist of destiny. So, one should have firm faith in Astrology and then only, proceed further.

Where a horoscope does not fit in for a native or where predictions go wrong, approach the matter in a cool and dispassionate manner, locate the error and rectify the horoscope. Like the siamese twins or dionne quintuplets, there may be a freak case, one in a thousand, which may not come within the rules. Leave them alone, as all the secrets of God's creation cannot be known to mankind.

Now coming to the subject proper, I am afraid the majority of horoscopes that we are called upon to read nowadays are wrong in certain respects, possibly the Graha sputa (planetary positions expressed in Rasis, degrees and minutes) given in most Indian horoscopes do not tally with the actual positions occupied by Grahas on date of birth when verified with the positions given in standard ephemeris (converted to Nirayana). Today, there no two Panchangas (almanac or ephemeris) which tally with each other, subject to making due allowance for the difference in Ayanamsa. The majority of the horoscopes that we see today are those erected with reference to such unreliable Panchangas. The reasons for these discrepancies are our Panchang compilers are still following the out-of-date siddhantas, Vakyas and what not. Almost three decades ago, Jyotishacharya CG Rajan of Madras openly admitted that the Vakya method of compiling Panchang cannot be relied upon. My fear that the Indian Panchangas are not accurate is so much that in the last 15 years, I have never read or given an opinion on a horoscope, unless I have checked and recast the horoscope with reference to Raphael's Ephemeris for the Year of Birth and using Prof. BV Raman's Ayanamsa. I think, today, almost all the top-ranking astrologers use Raphael's Ephemeris, where there is no possibility of error, for the planetary positions are periodically verified through large telescopes. While noting down Graha Sputa, I also make a note if there was an eclipse (Lunar or Solar) on the preceding and following Full Chandra or New Chandra days. The Gahanna peeda for Rahu, Surya or Chandra has to be taken into consideration. Also, if there are any strong parallel dristhis between Grahas. I have observed that parallel dristhis many a time broadly act like a conjunction in one Rasi. Other phenomena to be noted are: whether any Graha is in Ati Manda Gathi, Manda Gathi or Ati Seegra Gathi or Sthamba (stationary). These have their own effects. I once came across a case where, during the major period of Mars, Lord of 5 and 10 standing in good position, which fooled many astrologers, as they forecast many auspicious events whilst nothing like that happened and the reason I found was that the Lord of major period (Mars) was stationary on the day of birth.

Ayanamsa

The Ayanamsa used by me is that followed by my Guru, Prof BV Raman, through whose grandfather's books I first started my study of astrology. I changed over to this Ayanamsa some 20 years ago having read a number of articles by Prof. BV Raman wherein he was reading the horoscopes of natives of different continents using his Ayanamsa and tallying certain personal events in their lives. I have not, so far, found any reason to forsake this Ayanamsa. The reason for failure of a prediction need not always be due to the difference in Ayanamsa. It may be due to wrong time of birth or not reading a horoscope with correct Graha Sputa or failure to do rectification of a horoscope where needed. Further, a majority of horoscopes we now handle are correct only up to Rasi Chakra - even there, with the possibilities of Budha and Venus finding their way into different Rasis when checked-up.

Rectification

There is almost a fancy for many to rectify a horoscope. This is called for only in cases where actual readings begin to fail and not in all cases as a rule. Further, I have explained a method of rectification based on actual events in life and adjusting Garba Sista. Having ascertained the correct Graha Sputa, erect the Rasi Chakra placing (within the Rasis) the Grahas, as they actually stand on the horizon. Where there are two or Grahas, place them in the order of their positions (ascending order by degrees), so that, from Rasi Chakra itself, you could make out whether a Graha is in Subha Madhya or Papa Madhya (hemmed in between benefics / malefics) and the proximity to one another or a malefic. Subha madhyama or papa madhyama occurs rather rarely and is certainly, of more than ordinary importance. Broadly speaking, subha madhyama for a Graha enables it to confer subha effects more than what the present astrologers estimate.

Navamsa Chakra should be drawn as the astrologer can estimate the kshetra bala of a Graha from this and Rasi Chakra. Remember the adage GRAHANAAM AMSAKAM BALAM. Navamsa is compared to the roots of a tree.

Bhava Chakra is of pivotal importance. Whilst its importance is realized, Hindu astrologers merely find out the ascending degree and also the 10th Bhava madhya; opposites of these being descendant and Nadir; from these, we get the Bhava arambhas. There is thus the "equal house" system followed at least for every 3 houses put together. Quite possibly, this system is good enough for Equatorial Regions and say up to 15° on either side of the Equator. Thus, for major part of India, this system may not be found wanting.

To ensure greater mathematical accuracy, I cast the Bhava Chakra using Western methods and the Table of Houses published by Raphael's , with the help of which, the individual cusps are obtained for each latitude. This system is known as Placidian. Having worked out this type of Bhava Chakra, it is converted into Nirayana, using the same Ayanamsa used for conversion of Graha Sputa of the horoscope.

In other words, the methods of casting a horoscope and compiling Graha Sputa I follow, is exactly Western; thereafter, the entire chart is converted into Nirayana by deducting the Ayanamsa.

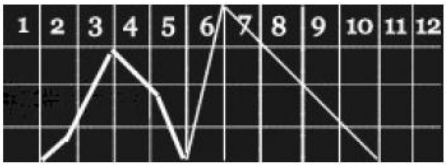

The Rasi, Navamsa, Dasamsa (profession) and any other Chakra necessary in a particular case are drawn in traditional style. The Bhava Chakra (Nirayana) alone is drawn by me in circular fashion (in Western fashion) showing the Bhava Arambha of each house (in place of the cusp points) and Grahas are inserted in the same manner as if it were a Western Horoscope, so that while giving predictions, the astrologer sees:

(1) whether a Graha is in Bhava sandhi or Rasi sandhi, subha / papa Graha madhya;
(2) proximity to papa / subha if any in same Rasi;
(3) the gravity of combustion if any or planetary battle and;
(4) Lordship of a Graha in exact proportion.

It happens, in many cases that Grahas like Surya and Chandra will own say half of one house and half of another, thus having two Lordships, whereas the astrologer would be giving predictions based on one Lordship only following the Bhava Chakra drawn by him in Hindu fashion. Similarly, Grahas like Saturn who own two Rasis, may in fact be having Lordship over 3 or 4 houses. The astrologer having a look at the traditional Bhava Chakra (in the absence of Bhava arambhas) reckons Lordship over 2 houses and bases his predictions on that. I think this is one reason why, in many major periods and sub periods, events not forecast, suddenly spring up causing bewilderment both to the native and the astrologer.

Aspects

In many cases, dristhis are not assessed in a realistic manner. For instance, a dristhi between a Graha in the last Navamsa of Pisces and another Graha in the first Navamsa of Libra is ignored for the latter happens to be in the 8th Rasi from Pisces. The 7th house dristhi between a Graha say, in the first Navamsa of Pisces and another in the last Navamsa of Virgo is taken as full. In other words, dristhis are being considered as if there's a wall at the end of each Rasi. Aspects should be considered somewhat on the lines of the graph given below, though it may not be necessary to work out the dristhi strength mathematically.

Yogas

All the Yogas operating on a horoscope, auspicious as well as inauspicious, should be noted along with their effects and whenever a Graha is considered, the yoga effects should also be considered at all stages. It should be remembered that an inauspicious yoga is like a drop of poison in a pot of milk. Whilst there are actually lakhs of Yogas, consideration of the 120 Yogas given in Hora Ratna Maala - Appendix E, is the minimum requirement. What is the use of Kesari Yoga between Jupiter as Lord of 8th and Chandra as Lord of 12th, assuming both are weak also? Such insignificant Yogas should be discounted. The same Kesari Yoga between Jupiter as Lord of 9th and Chandra as Lord of Asc and if both are strong, is sure to take the native higher up. Not taking note of all Yogas in a horoscope is also a reason for failure of predictions.

Yogas applying to the 12 houses in a horoscope are given Bhava-wise in SECRETS OF KERALA ASTROLOGY and HORA RATNA MALA. I would draw the attention of readers to the set of CHAMARAADI YOGAS in Appendix B of HORA RATNA MALA. One, two or three Yogas are likely to be found in a number of horoscopes, but no notice is taken of them. In brief, if the Lord of a house is strongly placed and the house itself is either conjunct or dristhied by a benefic, one of the Chamaraadi Yogas arises concerning that house. Opposite conditions bring in one of the Ava Yogas indicating papa results.

Dasa Varga Tabulation

Ascertain from the Dasa Varga table, the strength of Grahas on the lines of VIMSOPAKBALA as enunciated by Maharishi Parashara in his BRIHAT PARASHARA HORA, so that the strength of a Graha can be assessed and used for determining the quantum of auspicious / inauspicious effects.

Sayanadi Avasthas

Sayana Avasthas of the 9 Grahas and their effects (vide BRIHAT PARASHARA HORA) have to be found out and used in giving predictions concerning Major periods / Sub-periods. For instance, SUN in NIDRA Avastha is said to cause Edema. When it does occur in some one's Surya Dasa, the native gets bewildered, for the astrologer has not worked out these avasthas and hence, not predicted it. Seldom do we see horoscopes giving details of this type.

Shad bala

Do not condemn a Graha the moment you see it in debilitation or debilitated Navamsa, but consider whether it has any of the shad-bala (six kinds of strength). Assess even roughly how it stands with regard to each one of the six kinds of strength. In the Example Horoscope, Budha is in debilitation, but he is on his own star and in Ascendant, contributing to positional strength.

Nakshatra Chakra

Almost the whole of Nadi Jyotisha is based on the Nakshatra on which the Grahas are standing. Find out the Nakshatra on which the 9 Grahas are standing and note down their effects. These effects are given in Nadi Jyotisha published by Meena or in the November 1954 issue of Astrological Magazine, page 780. Even though Budha is debilitated, there is a difference when such Budha is standing on Revati, his own star. A Graha standing in its own house is said to be Swakshetra, whilst a Graha on its own star is said to be in Sookshma Swakshetra.

Ashtakavarga

The method of ascertaining longevity by the Ashtaka Varga has been stated by Maharishis to be the best among all the known methods ASHTAKA VARGA DASA MAARGAM SAVESHAM UTTAMOTHAMAM.

Another Sloka by Maharishis say that it is only through the Ashtaka Varga that the impact of papa yoga on a horoscope or the goodness of an auspicious yoga could be assessed or weighed.

Again, Ashtaka Varga is the method by which the day to day transit effects could be deduced. What is the use of Jupiter transiting your second house from Chandra Rasi if there are no bindus in that Rasi in Jupiter's Binna Ashta Varga? There is a belief among learned astrologers that future indicated by the Ashtaka Varga methodology never fails. Further, the very same Ashtaka Varga tables could be used for assessing the transit effects throughout the course of life of a native. Even the dates of important events like death of father / mother, marriage, birth, sex, number of children can all be predicted from the same set of charts.

We have thus far found out the various Yogas in a horoscope, call this (1) Yoga Phala. Note these on a separate sheet of paper. Similarly, make a note of the Nakshatras on which the 9 Grahas stand at birth, with individual effects. Call this (2) Nakshatra Chakra. While so doing, make a note of the Grahas, if any, standing on their own star or on auspicious stars. Grahas standing on stars owned by Lords of 1, 5, 9, 10 acquire a special power to confer good effects. (3) Sayanadi Avasthas of Grahas and their effects. (4) Ashta Varga tables for all the 9 Grahas, the Asc, Samudaya Ashta Varga and their effects. (5) Note the Graha Sputa (position of the Grahas in sings, degrees, minutes) of the 9 Grahas, Asc and Gulika - on a separate sheet of paper, and in remarks column, note down important points (such as Yoga associated with, standing in own house / enemy house etc., standing on special star, number of bindus in Ashta Varga, combustion etc.) All these inputs help an astrologer form his opinion. The sum of the status of all the 9 Grahas, Ascendant and Gulika, indicates the summit (or height) which the native will ultimately reach / attain.

Gulika

Gulika is accepted as a sub-Graha only in Kerala and parts of South India. Others ignore it. Whenever a doubt arises regarding the correctness of Ascendant in a horoscope, Kerala astrologers treat the Asc as correct if Gulika is in Asc or in trines. The sub-Graha is looked at so reverently. The position occupied by Gulika is as much a virtual point as Rahu / Ketu. I am convinced that omission of Gulika altogether does contribute to a partial failure of predictions, both in Bhava Phala and in major period / sub period effects.

Rasmi Chinta

There is no doubt that this methodology provides us with an easy yard-stick to determine in a few minutes, how good a horoscope is and to what heights the native would go on the material plane.

Major period / sub period effects (Vimshottari)

Maharishi Parashara, who wrote the first great book on Astrology, says that Vimshottari Dasa System is the best; and only where it fails, should Kala Chakra Dasa be relied upon. Other Dasa System cannot stand in comparison with Vimshottari in many respects.

Only a few Maharishis have written about effects of Maha Dasa, Chidra, Sookshma and Prana Dasas. These can be made use of in cases where rectification of birth time is required. If one knows the date and time of any important event in one's life, such as an accident, narrow escapes, academic achievement etc., rectification could be made if events do not tally with the ongoing Sookshma / Prana Dasa.

The English translation MAHA DASA PHALA & BUKTI PHALA is unique in one respect, namely, it gives the special effects for different conjunctions / dristhis on the Lord of the sub-period. It also includes Dasa Phala under Dravida Shastra which gives the particular months and stars when some notable events are likely. Make full use of these.

Whilst giving predictions concerning effects of any future sub-period in any major period, do consider the transits that are going to occur then, and whether they are favorable or otherwise. Whichever Major Period may be running, the actual givers of any subha / papa effects to a native are Surya, Chandra and Jupiter, they are the executive officers. It is only through these Grahas, subha / papa effects are presented to a native. In general, when favorable transits take place, auspicious effects arise and when transits are not favorable, inauspicious effects come to the fore.

Garba Shishta (balance of Major Period at birth) may be arrived at using the chart for the same given in Brihat Parashara Hora, based the degree occupied by Chandra at birth rather than based on Tithi /lunar day.

Shanties

Whilst we hear about the wonders played by shanties, I am personally of the opinion that there is a limit to depending on these. Miracles may have occurred in individual cases to the extent justified by a native's horoscope, however, a shanty cannot produce effects beyond what is indicated in a horoscope. For instance, a man destined to suffer poverty cannot be turned into a rich man by any amount of shanty nor can one destined to suffer diseases be totally relieved of the same by chanting AROGYA SOOKTA.

Morals from other texts

A careful perusal of Sukra Kerala Rahasya (Secrets of Kerala Astrology) reveals that opinion on a house has to be pronounced with reference to:

b) Bhava Rasi;
c) Lord of Bhava;
d) Grahas standing therein:
e) Grahas dristhing that house.

If any two are GOOD and the rest poor, mediocre or average, Bhava phala will be average. Here is a yard-stick to measure Bhava phala. A similar moral from Sarwartha Chintamani (Publisher's note: English Translation by Prof. Suryanarayana Rao is a must-read) is when considering a Graha, look also to its Navamsa and the Lord of such Navamsa. If all these are strong, the Graha under consideration is taken to be strong.

Having translated so many works on Astrology, I am convinced that the greater the attention paid to a horoscope, the greater is the accuracy of prediction and that, the following data, is a MUST:

a) Correct Graha Sputa
b) Rasi, Navamsa, Bhava and Dasamsa chakras
c) Sayanadi Avasthas and effects
d) Nakshatra Chakra with phala
e) Ashta Varga Phala for all the Grahas and Asc
f) reading Maha Dasa and Bhukti Phala with reference to transits that take place when the Bhukti runs.
