The Guaranteed Astrologer - 1

From The
Publisher's Diary

Now as I look back, I think of "him" as a messiah, one sent by God to help me learn astrology, though alas, my ill fate did not allow it. He was the unknown master, not well known in astrology literary circles, but one whom clients could swear by. Today, just a few of his books remain, but they are virtually useless as the master keys of each of the aphorisms were lost when the master passed on. If, after reading this article, some of you are inspired to write back with your own experiences of a similar master, please know that Saptarishis Astrology would be deeply grateful.

Studying the way of the ancients and elders teaches us not just what a successful astrologer should do, but also what he should not do. This article constitutes a path of learning for this writer, who had swayed from the path and wished to re-learn the proper attitude toward astrology, especially how to avoid certain pitfalls. There will be two responses to this article: the young uncorrupted lot will appreciate it, whereas the more corrupted lot will disagree with it; hence we had not earlier mentioned "The One" about whom we are now writing, except in hushed tones or mysterious one-liners.[1] What is being written here was due to the influences of "The One" long before he shed his mortal coil; his clients gave him his due respect and honor, but the astrological community did not do so. It is this debt that we wish to pay here in this article.

Prepare your coffee and take this article's print-out, and cuddle up on the patio for what we hope will be a pleasant read. Also note that this is not a technical write-up, hence charts and technical details of Indian astrology are not given. This way, even the Western astrologer can enjoy it. Usually, publishers cannot praise an astrologer since other writers of his magazine may become jealous, but "The One" is no longer alive, so nobody's business will be affected. Each astrologer contributes something toward the science, so we must bow to each other. Astrology is not a race to achieve the "throne"; otherwise it would negate the very purpose of a spiritual science that was advocated by the ancient sages. The result of my writing this piece may be that "important astrologers" may wish to stop writing for this magazine, or possibly, no "important astrologer" will want to join the board of writers, and there may be some vengeance in business resulting in monetary loss. Maybe that's the fate of SA (Saptarishis Astrology), but then we have never run this magazine with a business mentality. Rather, we have run it like a family, and the entire astrological community is our family, which we must serve. If you as an astrologer feel jealousy or dislike toward the man whom we are going to describe, then we are sorry to inspire these harsh feelings. It only means that astrology needs to become more of a penance in our lives, wherein true spiritual feelings of brotherhood and non-hatred toward others should arise. This article represents an attempt to commemorate a great astrologer who lives no more, who was somehow hidden from the world. He was often referred to in forums[2] as the Guaranteed Astrologer, and somewhat like the mythical Rocky Balboa, he was an underdog who has become a hero to some of us.

The Professional Astrologer Who Refused To Give Consultations

We were in North India in 2006 with a friend who was unemployed. Being unemployed in India is the worst sin, especially if you have grown up with a flamboyant lifestyle, having expensive tastes and habits. Though we were well networked, we called up "X" who has been referred to many times in the editorials[3]. X was told that our friend was in desperate need of a job, that his parents were old and in huge stress as the friend had just left a high paying job as GM of a small company. X was told that the friend had lost hope with astrology and that he really needed accurate advice. He needed to know the date when his next job would begin, and needed to know if there was an astrologer who could tell him this. X referred to the astrologer named S. K. Mehta. X's intention was that we go and meet Mr. Mehta and learn his unique system, as he was known to predict "to the day" without using Horary astrology. So it was our intention to meet Mehta, and this was more important than anything else. When we called him, he asked who had referred us, and as X had asked us not to mention his name (because he was concerned that Mehta would not charge us a fee if he knew we were sent by a friend[4]), we said that a film producer in Bombay had recommended him. Mehta Saheb[5] stated that he did not know such a person and that we should not come to see him. Next day, he was once again asked for a reading; he subsequently asked who referred us, and this time we answered with another name, and he said we should go away and not bother him again. Then, we called up X and updated him, at which point, X said it would be okay to mention his name. Evidently, X had known him for 20 years and had not wanted Mehta Saheb to do a free reading based on his friendship, which is why he had not wanted his name mentioned. This time when we called X, I said, "Sir, we are paying $80 per day in a hotel room, and Mehta Saheb's fee is only $20, so he must allow us a reading as we desperately need to see him, and still he turned us away." However, when we called Mehta Saheb and mentioned the "magical name" of X, instantly, he told us to come at 3:30 in the afternoon. It seems X had been doing this often before, wherein he had not wanted his name mentioned in the referral.

At 3 P.M., we were at his house and were ushered into a consultation room, where four people were already sitting. Mehta Saheb was at his desk with a lit cigarette, the smoke

[2] Forum on Yahoo groups called Jyotish Group that was once a great forum, now everyone seems to have deserted it due to "pollution."

[3] Now due to many inquiries, SA is forced to hide the identity of X, who prefers anonymity and lives in seclusion.

[4] An astrologer must always be paid his fees.

[5] Saheb is similar to "Sir," and is a term used to accord distinction to someone senior or genuine.

of it filling the stale air in the small room, and a young man in his late 20s was sitting in front of him. Mehta Saheb was shooting off rapid predictions to this young man, in a nasal tone and high pitched voice which was barely discernable. In between, he would offer astrological explanations to the young man, who did not seem to understand astrology, but who wore a wide smile nonetheless. He seemed to be enjoying the stunning predictions, such as...

1. Your mother is 5 feet 6 inches tall, and she limps while walking.
2. You found a job in January exactly two years ago.
3. Your father is in a property dispute, which has been ongoing for four years, and which will be resolved in another five years from now.

We realized that we were sitting in front of a master, who incidentally did not have any books, certificates, or photographs of saints or gods on display. Mehta Saheb was constantly smoking and many times kept the cigarette lit for a long interval without even smoking it.[6] Then he made us wait, as it was time for him to eat, and he offered us food, after which he asked for the birth details of our friend, and he created his chart on a Palm Top like instrument. He scribbled the chart on a notepad, and our investigative eye noted that he had drawn the natal chart and next to it the same chart from the Moon Ascendant.[7] I do not recall if he created a D-9 chart or not. After he did many calculations by hand, he scribbled in minute detail what is popularly known as the Period/Dasa[8] calculation in India, which helps in timing results. Indian astrologers popularly think that the Period/Dasa is not available in Western astrology, but this is far from the truth. Western astrology also has a method of Period/Dasa computation. Mehta Saheb was calculating this by hand, and we realized that he was also doing something "more." He then stared at the horoscope for approximately eight to ten minutes and not more than that.[9] X would not agree here since he has probably seen Mehta Saheb divulge stunning predictions in seconds, but maybe for some reason, Mehta Saheb stared at it for this long time. Then he started reeling off predictions which left us speechless and made us realize that we were sitting in front of a "master of masters," perhaps the finest God could ever make. X would often say about Mehta's predictions, "It was as if Sage Bhrighu[10] was speaking through him."

[6] Seeing the cigarette, we realized which planet is strongest in his horoscope and attributed this very planet to his stunning predictions. This is related to a new observation mentioned in our commentary in the series on asterisms in the "Ravana Samhita" series. For Westerners, this is an ancient text that has not survived in purity and we published it in English for the first time, and it can be found in previous issues of Saptarishis Astrology.

[7] In India, it is customary to create the natal chart with Moon as the Ascendant even though the Moon stays in the same sign for a long period, and this system has been followed for thousands of years.

[8] Vimshottari Dasa, as it is called in India.

[9] In India, anyone who has been to masters of astrology believes that an astrologer cannot take more than 30 seconds to reel off his predictions (no exaggeration here), and if he takes longer than that, then he does not know astrology. Yet one must remember that today, such masters are very few in number, and we must not criticize what is left of astrology.

[10] Sage Bhrighu is an ancient sage whose predictions are noted as the greatest ever and who wrote a voluminous book where one can find any living person's horoscope with stunning predictions given by the sage and also remedies to the problems.

Kindly note that any client in India knows "in his heart" that the greatest of astrologers can reach a maximum 60 percent accuracy, whereas many astrologers would tell you that they easily get 80-90 percent accuracy. The details of the chart of our friend are not given for privacy issues, but one must remember what Mehta Saheb said to us on the telephone, as his parting shot before he passed on: "Try to predict the chart by knowing the events of a person, and you will master astrology."[11] Now read the predictions as given by Mehta Saheb on our friend's chart, and please note that 80-90 percent of these predictions did come true.

1. Your father is a government employee who was falsely implicated in a case and then suspended. The "Committee Enquiry" would reveal that he was not at fault but that it was his superior who falsely implicated him. He would be re-instated after exactly one year from this trouble. – Friend replied with astonishment that this was very true, and no astrologer in India had ever before predicted this to him.

2. You are a clean-hearted person and you have been fooled mercilessly by many, and your whole life is a tragedy since everyone cheats you or takes you for granted. Just five months back you were cheated similarly. People like you can never become successful. – Friend was about to reply that this was very true, that it had unfortunately happened just like this, but Mehta Saheb was busy looking at the chart, and just put his hand up as if to say, "Don't disturb me. I know that my prediction is true."

3. You are not married right now, and I am not sure if you will get married, but first reply to me if any of your father's elder siblings are unmarried. My friend replied in the affirmative that four out of five of his father's siblings were unmarried, and Mehta Saheb then raised his voice slightly, "Okkk, you will then get married." Here, one must intervene that it was felt he would never get married since he was 34 years old with a very badly afflicted chart by any standards, and all famous astrologers had failed miserably on his chart in regards to timing marriage. – Friend replied that two of his aunts from his father's side and two of his uncles from his father's side were unmarried. We intervened to ask him if this is due to Rahu debilitated in his 7H with its dispositor debilitated, too. Mehta Saheb smiled and asked politely that we not disturb him. Kindly note the word "then" above, that's the key.

4. Mehta Saheb said that the wife will have some practice of her own, like a lawyer or doctor, that right at the time, it is not her own practice, but when he would meet her, it would be her own practice, in which she was doing some kind of "preaching," and working with the government - Years later, it was noticed this prediction failing partially as the wife of the friend was a teacher and not a lawyer or doctor, but she was into preaching as a teacher, and she was taking private tuitions from childhood and later she was taking her own tuitions and also employed with a government school. Incidentally, what we checked was that in 2006 she was taking tuitions under her brother's classes, and later became independent starting her own tuition classes, making the prediction true in a way.

[11] We have tried this advice as a dictum and succeeded at times to locate the Ascendant and some planets but failed miserably due to lack of knowledge and intelligence. Others are requested to follow it and see the stunning results; you would get to know more about planets than what is written in any book.

5. Then Mehta Saheb said in his slightly nasal voice that friend's wife will be one of five children and yet heir of a huge inheritance, and she might be the youngest (this did not come out as true), but when he meets her, she would have almost none of the inheritance, that right now her family has two houses, but when he meets her they would have sold one. She would have been cheated of her inheritance. At the time of this prediction, the family would have two vehicles. He went on describe that three of her siblings would have taken an MBA, one would be in the hotel business, one's marital life would be spoiled and he would be divorced by the time friend meets his wife-to-be. - Have followed this case and noticed that part of the prediction is not true but yet astoundingly true to a larger extent, as the friend married a girl who has in total five siblings including herself, in spite of her being the second eldest, her father had openly said to all five siblings that the whole inheritance which he is supposed to receive would be hers only. When the friend met the girl, she told him that she was heir of a huge inheritance but that her uncle had cheated her father and given him a small insignificant percent of it amounting to some 20 lakhs (40,000 $). They had thus two houses but due to this cheating, one was gone and the other, her brother had cheated her whole family out of to make it in his name. Two siblings are right now doing MBA, the third is an MBA graduate who is divorced, the fourth does not have a hotel business and is into Telecommunications, but he did his studies in Hotel Management, so here Mehta Saheb was a bit off.

Some of the other predictions we don't remember, though we noted a few in our diary. He was the only astrologer we had to stop after 45 minutes of predictions since it was too stunning and we wanted it on paper due to his indiscernible voice. Also, he said that these predictions were just preliminary, and that after he would give us 30 predictions for the next 30 days, we were to give him feedback in writing, and only then he would rectify the birth time. After this, the "real predictions" would be given. And we had thought that already his predictions had been stunning enough! We sat in awe as we were in front of the finest astrologer so far, though others may have experienced better than we had. Then we realized why X had sent us to him. The problem was that X secretly desired that we learn Mehta Saheb's system, but Mehta Saheb had an accent which was too difficult to discern, and his writings were "indecipherable," as we were to discover later.

Though he was very strict on this 30-day feedback, he still gave us three dates that were for a particular month only, as to when the new job would be found. He said that out of the three dates he would guarantee one date even though we had not gone through the process of chart rectification. This scribe was stunned since no astrologer had ever guaranteed his predictions since the 6th century astrologer Varahamihira, who was ready to be hanged if his predictions did not become true, yet, this scribe cannot guarantee even one of his own predictions. Because of his dazzling predictions, this scribe started calling Mehta Saheb the "Guaranteed Astrologer" in various Internet forums.

Now these dates for the upcoming job were nine months later than the dates given in most consultations, and we were dismayed since it was not exactly what we had wanted to hear. Most of us go with pre-conceived notions of what the astrologer must say to us. In fact, most astrologers in India might have given our friend a one-or-two-month period for new job gain, and Mehta Saheb was the only astrologer who gave us such an extended-wait-period prediction.

X's Reaction

In November when my friend landed a job, X asked, "Out of the three dates which Mehta Saheb gave as good, better and best, which one was accurate?" I said that none were, and then X asked how much did it differ, and scribe replied that it differed around 22 days. X immediately wondered aloud in great frustration if Mehta Saheb had lost his astrological ability. X seemed to feel, based on this one case, that his recommendation had been useless. This writer, on the other hand, was quite pleased and astonished that the month of the job hire had been predicted to the "T," and that this prediction had been made nine months in advance, and so what if his prediction had been off by a mere 22 days? However, X had known Mehta Saheb for 20 years of close friendship, and in this time, had seen him predicting a minimum of 50 cases of job gain to the day, which is why this was a surprise to him.

In one future instance on the same chart Mehta Saheb failed dramatically, but by then he had moved to the holy city of Haridwar, India, due to his ill health. He did not want to make this particular prediction, and scribe had to pester him several times for it, but in the end, his prediction failed anyway. He did not tell us that it was time for him to pass on... but he had told X three years earlier that a particular week three years later would be bad for him, and then three days before the event, he called up X and said its time to say goodbye to 20 years of friendship.

Some Of His Predictions

This is what X and some contacts in Delhi told me. What we have heard from X will always be totally true since we know X to be the most honest devotee[12] of astrology that we have ever met and known personally for a long time. Some of this might be factually erroneous since we heard it on the phone and there is a slight chance we could have heard the facts wrong.

[12] Mark the word devotee; he has never behaved like a typical astrologer in spite of studying astrology since 1962. In spite of reading every commentary on each classic and being at times a stunning predictor, his approach/attitude (bhavana) towards astrology is something too pure like a servant ready to serve rather than be served, guess that's the reason he is so successful.

1. X had an industrialist client whose brother was jailed by the Enforcement Directorate. The industrialist was a long time client of Mehta Saheb and was worried about his brother, and Mehta Saheb said that at 10 o'clock he would be freed, and exactly at 10:05, the industrialist who was sitting with Mehta Saheb received a call from his brother that he had been freed. X was witness to this prediction, which incidentally was not made through horary astrology, but from natal astrology, which makes it more astonishing; but if you knew the kind of calculations Mehta did, you would not be so astonished. He was quite keen and almost fanatical about doing his astrological calculations by hand; we have not seen any other astrologer so meticulous and quick at it.

2. A friend of X in Delhi had his marriage falling apart, so X took him to Mehta Saheb as X realized that one cannot play in experimentation with popular astrologers, but rather should take his friend to astrologers who can really deliver. This friend of X was in a very high position, and so was his wife, both being employed in MNC companies with huge salaries. Mehta Saheb saw the chart of X's friend and said that he was married, and then asked if they had two children. The man replied that he had two children and mentioned their ages. Mehta Saheb said "Oh, in that case you would soon be divorced, and within a year, you would have a girlfriend who would live with you (live in relationship), and she would give birth to your child." X tells me that the prediction came out true "to the T."

3. To another friend 15 years before the event, Mehta Saheb saw the charts of his daughters and said about one that "she would marry at such and such age, the name of her husband would be starting with such and such letter, he would be doing such and such business, and his father would be of such and such status in life, and his uncles would be in such and such profession." For brevity and privacy, the details were deleted. Having one firsthand experience of Mehta Saheb, we knew that he was an absolute master in looking at the profession of relatives and especially the relatives of the spouse. X indicates that he was even a master at predicting the starting letter of the name of one's spouse.[13]

4. One of his failed predictions that X often tells us is that of a very rich man from Punjab, and Mehta Saheb was sure that he would become the President of India. The man campaigned in Delhi for four years or so, and spent huge sums of money doing PR with political parties, but the event did not happen. Like any other astrologer, Mehta Saheb felt he was correct in his prediction, but he failed. In another chart, he got everything wrong for seven years.

[13] Predicting the starting letter of one's spouse if we are not wrong, one of our authors Dr. Paresh Desai's father, the late Ravindra Desai, was capable of doing; this the author has not indicated to us but other sources have indicated it. What we remember clearly from various sources is that Ravindra Desai used to predict the date and time of the event at times and the mighty of Mumbai would visit him. Mehta Saheb had predicted the starting letter of the spouse of our friend but right now we are unable to get the diary where we noted it in order to verify it.

5. In one of our trips to Delhi, this scribe, P.M. Padia (Guru of James Braha) and Andree Leclerc were visiting a famous publisher, and scribe was suggesting that the need of the hour is to revive old classics in astrology, especially the books of astrology greats like the late J.N. Bhasin and Bepin Behari. Their books need to be re-written, as all of them are priceless jewels which need to be represented in clear simple English and systematic presentation. At that time, I just removed the topic of one book which the publisher had withdrawn, which was of S. K. Mehta, and the publisher's son immediately pounced with enthusiasm in the conversation as to what a brilliant astrologer he was. Kindly note that publishers have met all kinds of astrologers and are forced to test either their knowledge or their predictive ability. Later in the conversation, it was learned that S. K. Mehta used to also give consultations at this publisher's office and he had wide experiences of Mr. Mehta's predictions. In fact, the publisher's son mentioned one experience concerning the daughter or granddaughter of the late J. N. Bhasin. It seems Mehta Saheb used to often give the date of accident or breakdown of her car and the granddaughter of Bhasin would get the car serviced and in perfect order before the said date, "yet it would break down on the concerned date and this would repeat and repeat for each prediction."

6. He predicted that another famous Delhi publisher's hand would break, and the publisher did have a bad fracture some time later.

7. A client went to him and he said without knowing the background, "your father was in the army and he has a huge mustache even now after retirement but he has no hair on his head and is bald."

These predictions are not so great, but this is what we have to offer now as to what we remember. His students who have disappeared are requested to prove us wrong and bring out the true glory of their guru's predictive ability and more important than that, of his techniques.

The Man, The Machine

This is the most important section as per this scribe, and a learning for even the best of the lot. If some of the good points of Mehta Saheb are inspirational, then this write-up has served its purpose. Mehta Saheb did not learn astrology from anyone or from books. He was an engineer, and when he started to learn astrology, he read two books by one popular author. He read it and practiced it on some charts, only to realize that no clear predictions could ever be made via that knowledge, so he instantly discarded those books, and when we met him he showed us that in his house there are no books. He was self-taught, and he called his system "Observational Astrology."

He never met an astrologer, never went to any conference, never advertised his consultation service, never wrote any articles and was light years away from Internet forums. In October of 2010 at Guru Shivananda Murthyji's conference, we took a long pending interview of the veteran astrologer K. N. Rao, and on the last day just before ten minutes of our departing, we asked, pushing the MP3 recorder towards him, whether he heard of S. K. Mehta, and then K. N. Rao said in his baritone voice very loudly, "Brilliantttt Astrologer."

Mr. Mehta did not have many possessions in life, and this is often the mark of a great astrologer, and he did not want many clients, and his fees were the same whether it was for others or the ex-Chief Minister of a State, to whom he had predicted that in 11 days on such and such date, he would become the Chief Minister of that State.[14] The Chief Minister's wife would personally invite him with an airline ticket to the capital city to give predictions, and X had seen her personally at the residence of Mehta receiving predictions, too. Twice he had given to-the-date predictions to this Chief Minister in front of X, as to when he would become Chief Minister. It is not known if he distinguished between the common man and a Chief Minister, but it did not appear so, since Mehta Saheb came across in front of us as a very humble astrologer, and he would not be of the type to show partiality to people in power.

Mehta Saheb was not a popular person since he did not write articles or attend conferences and he was not so well known in India, but only in those circles where he was recommended. Some so-called holy astrologers had a problem with Mehta Saheb since he did not believe in God,[15] did not believe in remedies and he used to smoke and drink alcohol. The problem with India is, in spite of thousands of years of spirituality and all of us claiming that India is the most spiritual land, we have not been able to eradicate racism, dowry, poverty, or corruption.[16] We have not been able to go to the core of spirituality to understand that it's not one's eating or drinking habits that make a man, it's his heart, nothing more, nothing less. The saints of Maharashtra and Indian yogis have shown this for hundreds of years, how they can smoke but also give great spiritual teachings, perform miracles and be the kindest of humans. The Hugging Saint Mata Amritanandamayi once said in an interview in Times Of India that "Spirituality starts where religion ends."

Well one brief meeting and few calls is a very short period in which to get to know anyone, but after a certain age, one gets the experience of how to judge character. With Mehta Saheb, we did not notice arrogance or a bloated ego; though he deserved it, and yet he himself answered that he learned astrology on his own through "Observational Astrology." One does not know why he refused to call it "my research," but it was only called by him, "Observational Astrology." Speaking of Observational astrology, he would often sit with X and discuss charts and then remove his small diaries and say something such as, "In 1982, so and so had come with so and so combination in his chart, and this current client has the same combination, and the same events have unfolded." X said that if one kept the rule books of Mehta Saheb, where he scribbled his rules of prediction, it actually would be one

[14] Due to compulsions of privacy we had to delete the name of the state, it is the most powerful state in India is what may suffice.

[15] This is not entirely true, according to X, who says that Mehta's concept of God was far different than the text book definition.

[16] In fact, many of today's astrologers would have the most corrupt politicians as their clients and these astrologers shamelessly flaunt it since the time of Independence of India. In true spiritual circles, astrologers are often not regarded highly in India, since astrologers have not been able to convert their clients into honest entities or good human beings.

metre in height. Mehta had a huge memory and would remember charts well. He had some eight to ten students that he taught over a period, but unfortunately no writings or teachings have come out of them. In fact, one of Mehta's books was withdrawn by his students from a famous publisher, which is what the publisher told us. X found him to be one of the few astrologers with whom he could discuss astrology without worrying about the politics of astrologers or hurting the ego of astrologers when asked some tough technical questions.

His Books

It has taken us three years to procure the two marvelous books written by the Guaranteed Astrologer:

1. "New Rules & Combinations In Hindu Astrology."
2. "Synchronization of Periods."

The former maybe can be used by any Western or Indian astrologer student for marvelous predictions, and the latter gives a very technical form of timing periods in astrology (Vimshottari). Both the books, especially the latter, are beyond this scribes' intelligence, but one would want others to learn it well, and if you read it and find it working, then please do write articles on it by sharing your experiences. Please note that with his work, one might need to relearn astrology,[17] so if your cup is not empty, don't bother to go through it as we would not want you to waste your money.

Do note that X clearly mentioned that not even 1% of Mehta Saheb's knowledge has come out in the books, and the books were written by his students.[18] X said these books need to be re-written by a good writer, as Mehta Saheb was a predictor and everyone in India knows that the ones who can predict are rarely good writers. It's almost a 99 percent rule as these predictors do not have time to write books or have time to write in Internet forums, as the population of India is so much that if one gets the wind that one is a great predictor, then his house will often have queues waiting to get in, whereas most writers do not have the fortune of having people lining up outside their homes. Along with one of our volunteer writers, Mr. Venkat, we had tested some of the astounding principles given in New Rules of Hindu Astrology, but we found it working on a few charts stunningly and failing on a few, so apparently, we did not have the master key of S. K. Mehta. Young and old readers often criticize other astrologers' techniques, not realizing that knowing a technique and then writing "how to use it" can be the most difficult part, even when a writer wants to openly share. Yet in the next installment of this article, we would take up some of his rules and show how astoundingly it works on some charts and how it fails on some, giving a balanced view. That should also serve as a reminder to young students that the best kept secrets of true researchers and writers is that each technique can work on 100 charts and an article can display all those 100 charts, and similarly that same technique can be used to show how it is not working on another set of 100 charts. If you plan to buy his books, do not expect miracles coming out. Remember that one metre-in-height rule book of Mehta, and remember for a super computer like Mehta, it was never possible to put his knowledge out in book form. It was only after the insistence of X and other admirers that something had to be published, and for this, we must be grateful. The books of Mehta Saheb remind me of the books written by sages, where each aphorism can seem to be working on some charts and failing on some, yet it is our tradition that we do not criticize the sages so why should we criticize a modern author and create bad karma.

[17] His method of using exaltation and debilitation of planets is far different than the traditional method of both Western and Indian astrology.

[18] Kindly note, as mentioned earlier, Mehta Saheb was not the best of communicators.

Learning From Him

Over the years we have found that Observational Astrology is the greatest form of guru to oneself. But this has to be blended with the ability to accept that our knowledge is limited, and there are some rules which are not known to us, since if we believe that we know all the rules or we are the greatest researcher ever born, we would not be able to learn from Observational Astrology. This may have been the strongest point of Mehta Saheb, as he re-wrote astrology for himself, starting from scratch. If there is something valuable I have learned from him and my mentor, it is that I for one am not capable of becoming a practicing astrologer if I can't be 99 percent accurate, since it's a sin to misguide someone, and if I am only 50-60 percent accurate, then I am making this subject/science a form of entertainment, which it is not.

When an astrologer decides that he does not want to be known in the literary circles of astrology, he may be at a great advantage and can excel far more than anyone. Often literary circles of astrology are distracting and consuming time and precious mental energy, apart from at times creating bad karma out of philosophical disagreements. If I can find faults in myself and compare it with what I can learn from Mehta Saheb, it is, he did not bother to write articles, he did not have the desire to stand in front of crowds of young astrologers in conferences, he did not have to spend days to prepare his speeches like other conference speakers, he did not have to spend days writing an article and then spend years promoting that article at every instance, and he did not want to be surrounded by hundreds of students. Mehta Saheb was spared all this and he could save all this time and devote himself to the "real astrology" and not pseudo astrology that I have been doing, and most important is that he did not seem to have the desire to be called a guru or be given a red carpet treatment. Even though we spoke few times, we spoke at length, and we never found him complaining about any astrologer. Mehta Saheb was better off not believing in God, it seems. He seems to have fulfilled the expression, "Fill It, Shut It, and Forget It."

He died as the Unsung Hero of Astrology.

The Guaranteed Astrologer
Part Two

The need of the hour is for astrologers to test each and every technique on several charts and to see the chart as a whole rather than coming to conclusions based on aphorisms. This article reveals some of the unbiased testing of techniques taken from the works of the late astrologer named S.K. Mehta. The purpose here is to stimulate minds to find out the underlying principle behind the aphorisms rather than to predict the event.

Greatest Untold Secret

The greatest untold secret of astrology relates to the interpretation of astrological aphorisms (shlokas), in that one brief verse is not leading toward an instant conclusion, but is pointing toward a particular facet of the chart, so that it does not escape the astrologer's attention, and so that later, it can be used with other tools to triple check, verify and view the chart 'holistically'. The ancient sages, who performed severe austerities and were closely guided by the gods, would offer simple, short verses that were often criticized later on by modern readers because they did not lend a foolproof interpretation. The verse is only a clue giver, and no sage or author is ever going to stress this, as it is a common-sense approach. These verses were not given for astrologers to be able to make blind predictions yet most of us land up doing that inspite of our seniority. This untold secret that has not been mentioned in any book is a concept taught through the oral tradition by the guru to the student. Yet, it is a concept that appears to be misunderstood, as professional magazine articles often characterize a particular dictum as a blind rule. Incidentally its more the reader who assumes it to be a blind rule and lands up criticizing the author. In the yet-to-be published Last Book Of Astrology, the sage explains this concept and more:

> A chart is like a human body, where, in order for a human to walk, the body has to co-ordinate hundreds of muscles and other elements for the simple action of walking. For an event to be seen from the chart, it's never a lone planet that gives the result, it's every force in the chart coming together to make that one simple event, and this can never be forgotten while reading the classics of the sages...each aphorism [is given] either to underline a principle or to point the reader's attention toward a probable event, so that other tools can be brought in to verify if that event will happen.

The Last Book of Astrology is very clear in stating quite a profound idea in the above verse: "In order to understand how astrology works, observe the human body."

Here are some rules from Mehta's book New Rules and Combinations in Hindu Astrology:

Technique One: "If Saturn and Mars are in association in the 8H of the horoscope, the native will be a big criminal in his life time. The native may commit robberies, dacoities and even murders" (p 124).

Obviously all charts with Saturn and Mars in the 8H will not give the same result, but let's see if it comes true even on one chart from www.astro.com database[1]. What must also be remembered is that among 92 charts with Mars and Saturn in the 8H, no such thing occurred. Though robbery need not happen, sometimes it is observed that natives with this combination might steal someone's work for personal profiteering; or in order to advance in one's life, natives with this combination might be conniving, and some kind of cheating could occur.

In order to maintain brevity, this author has taken five charts where this technique works, and five charts where this technique does not completely work.

Understand the holistic meaning of the word 'murder' and 'burglary' and you would hit the key of the underlying meaning of the aphorism.

Chart 1: Harry Tracy

As:	29 Ge 05	Su:	8 Li 13- GK	Mo:	10 Le 07- PK	Ma:	8 Cp 00- DK
Me (R):	21 Li 04- AmK	Ju:	17 Li 26- BK	Ve:	16 Li 16- MK	Sa (R):	27 Cp 17- AK
Ra:	14 Pi 52- PiK	Ke:	14 Vi 52	HL:	13 Cp 43	GL:	7 Sg 54

American killer, cattle rustler, burglar and holdup man. In 1893, Tracy shot a sheriff. He was captured in 1901, convicted and given 20 years prison. He killed four guards during an escape on 9 June 1902 and also shot his partner. When cornered on 5 Aug 1902, Tracy killed himself rather than be captured again.

Here are the criteria of Rule One that are being met in this above chart:

a) Saturn and Mars in the 8H.

[1] Whenever we have taken any data from Astrodatabank, kindly note that the date numbering is the American system which means 01/04/1970 would be 4th Jan 1970, unless we categorically mention it as 1st April 1970 - SA

b) He committed burglary and was a dacoit.
c) He even committed four murders.
d) The last event of committing suicide is not mentioned in Rule One, but please see read Mehta Saheb's books for some rules on suicide, one of which can be modified and used in the above chart.

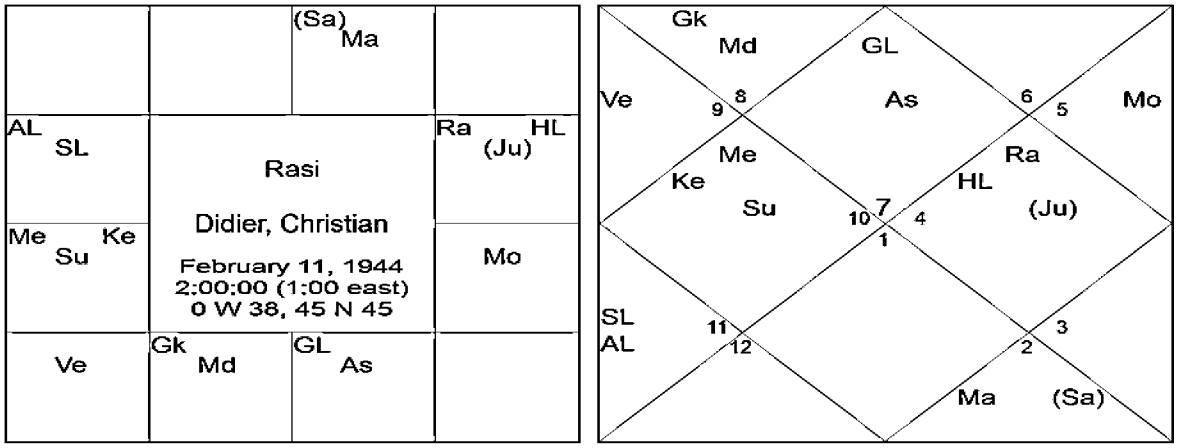

Chart 2: Gilbert Colzin

As:	20 Sc 07	Su:	1 Aq 42- DK	Mo:	5 Cn 34- MK	Ma (R):	21 Ge 23- BK

Ra:	4 Ge 02- AK	Ke:	4 Sg 02	HL:	21 Vi 40	GL:	7 Pi 52

The native has Mars and Saturn in the 8H, which satisfies Rule One for murder. According to ADB, this Frenchman strangled his wife on 25th Oct 1986.

Chart 3: Christian Didier

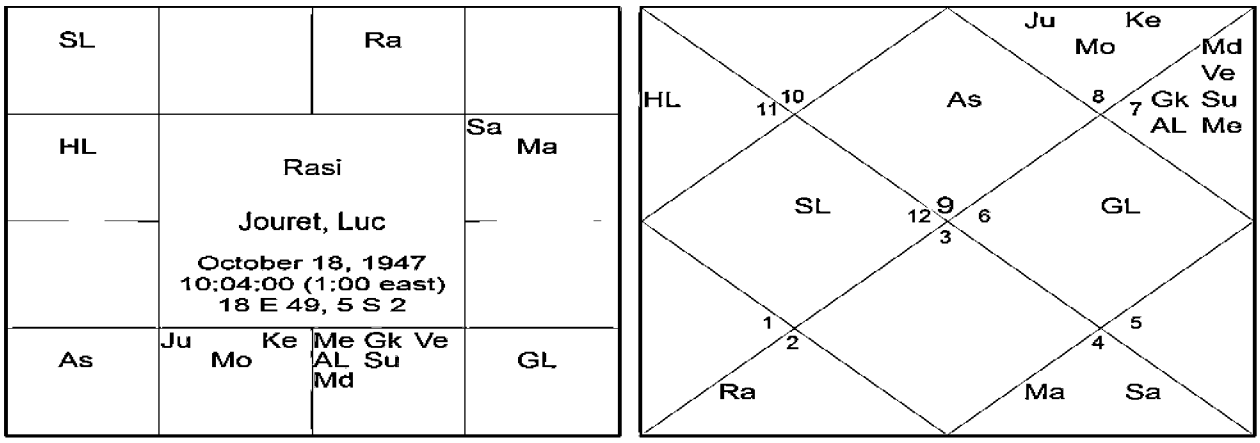

As:	25 Li 08	Su:	28 Cp 07- AmK	Mo:	17 Le 42- PiK	Ma:	17 Ta 18- PK

French assassin of Rene Bousquet, a political figure. Didier was an unsuccessful writer who drew some attention through demonstrations which he orchestrated during civil events. On 6/08/1993, Didier murdered Bousquet in his apartment, at 8:45 AM. Bousquet had been convicted of crimes against humanity in 1991 for his role as General Secretary of the Vichy police during WW II, 1942-1944.

As you can see Mars and Saturn are in the 8H, and he committed murder.

Belgian-Canadian cultist, born in Zaire, the charismatic leader of the Solar Temple Order. He was held responsible for the violent death, a mass murder of collective suicide, of 53 of his following, 48 in Switzerland and 5 in Canada, on 4 Oct 1994. A handsome physician, he worked with a colleague, Joseph di Mambro, a French-Canadian known as "the dictator," and the financial mastermind of the cult. Believed to be about ten years old, the Order had an estimated 300 members to whom they preached a hodgepodge of Catholic conservationism and apocalypse.

On 1/05/1994, police found what was first considered to be a mass cult suicide in Switzerland, 23 bodies in the half-burned-out ruins of a farm in Cheiry, 45 miles north-east of Geneva. Another 25 bodies were uncovered in three chalets at Granges-sur-Salvan in the Swiss Alps, and five more in a villa in Morin Heights, Canada, about 50 miles northwest of Montreal. It was soon found to be mass murder, not suicide. Three of the Quebec victims, including a three-month-old baby, were stabbed to death. Those in Switzerland had been shot, suffocated with plastic bags over their heads or burned to death. The fires had been set off with timers.

On October 13th, Jouret's and Mambro's bodies were found. Jouret had died in Granges the evening of 10/04/1994. It was believed that rising tensions between the two men over cult control and over vast sums of money invested in properties may have been the motive.

Kindly note that Mars and Saturn are in the 8H, but there is a possibility that this chart representation given above might be wrong as the place of birth is Kitwit, Zaire which is not listed in Jhora, the software we use to display charts, but we are relying instead on Kala for accuracy, which is showing 9.38 Sagittarius as the Ascendant.

Chart 5: Leonardo Marino

As:	10 Sc 59	Su:	12 Pi 33- PK	Mo:	23 Sg 34- PiK	Ma:	26 Ge 41- AmK

Italian homicide accomplice, a member of a political group, Lotta Continua, who were implicated in an assassination. Police Chief Calabresi had been shot to death on the morning of 5/17/1972, c. 9:15 A.M., when he left home in Rome. He was shot by a young man in a Fiat with another person driving. In July 1988, Leonardo Marino, a member of the group, turned himself over to the police and declared that he was the driver of the car from which Ovidio Bompressi shot Calabresi on the orders of Sofri and Stefani, executives of the party. In January 2000, the courts of Venice confirmed the guilt of Sofri, Bompressi and Pietro Stefani for his murder.

One can note that Rule One is satisfied with Mars and Saturn in the 8H.

Technique "Not Working" Charts

Now let us take charts where the technique is not working, before that one should note that the AstroDatabank was originally compiled by Western astrologer Lois Rodden, whose greatest service to the world astrological community was to give out all her records for the benefit of research, which not a single Indian astrologer has been able to do in spite of the computer age in India. Astrological community must encourage Indian astrologers to bring out their records for the benefit of astrological research since astrology is based on Desh, Kala & Patra and just Astro Data Bank will not suffice . For her service, Lois Rodden is considered by many to be one of the greatest sages of astrology in the past 100 years. She followed the footsteps of Indian sages who worked for the benefit of mankind and not for themselves.

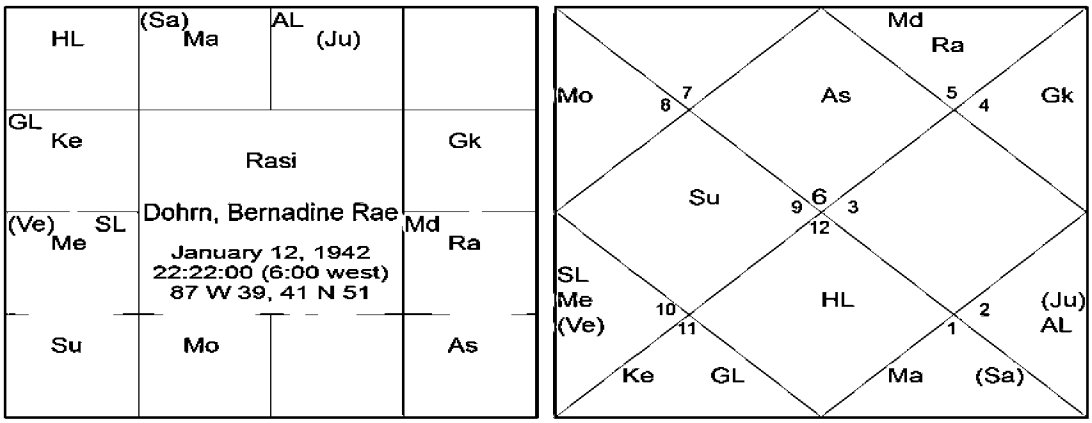

There are several possible reasons that this technique is not working with some of the AstroDatabank charts:

a) The technique truly might not be working.
b) Professional readings are done once or twice with the same astrologer unless it's a regular client, and after the first or second reading, feedback may not have been given related to certain predictions. In other words, the birth time might not be accurate and might have not been correctly rectified by Rodden or others who contributed charts to her data bank.

c) As mentioned earlier either, the aphorism states murder or burglary, or, as per the experience of this author's mentor, it could be related to professional deceit.

Understand the holistic meaning of the word murder and burglary and you would hit the key of the underlying meaning of the aphorism.

American political activist of the '60s, a member of the Weather Underground and at one time on the FBI's ten-most-wanted list. She spent 11 years as a fugitive after serving a seven-month prison term for refusing to cooperate with a grand jury investigation. She was indicted for leading the October 1969 riots in Chicago and later, cleared of charges. The daughter of a Jewish Hungarian father and a Swedish mother, she went to work as a young secretary. Later, she married a former Weatherman, who is now a teacher. They had three children. She lives in Chicago where she lectures and works for the welfare issues of kids.

Worked as an American administrator at Putnam Investments in Norwood while working her way toward her Master's degree at Providence College. She and her boyfriend, Shawn Nassancy of Pawtucket, were on their way to a vacation in Hawaii on board United Airlines flight No. 175, when it was hijacked and flown into the World Trade Towers on 9/11/2001 at 9:02 A.M., killing all on board instantly.

See how the aphorism worked here, in that she did not commit burglary and murder, but became the victim of it.

Chart 3: Cheryl Jacques

This lady has Mars Saturn in the 8H but did not commit any murder or burglary, so the technique does not work "to the T."

American politician; the openly gay mother of two boys, Jacques has been a member of the Massachusetts Senate since 1993. In November 2003, she was appointed head of Human Rights Campaign, a gay and lesbian advocacy group based in Washington, D.C., a position she assumed on January 1, 2004. She left the position a year later for reasons that she was not at liberty to discuss.

An attorney early in her career, she earned a B.S., Boston College (MA), 1984; J.D., Suffolk University School of Law (MA), 1987. She held a variety of public positions at the municipal levels from 1986 to 1990 and became a ten-year Democratic State Convention Delegate in 1988.

On November 30, 2004, Jacques announced that she was resigning from her position as head of the Human Rights Campaign. She would not reveal the specifics of her departure, saying only that she and the board had "a difference in management philosophy."

Mars and Saturn are in the 8H satisfying the condition of Mehta, but the native of this chart did not commit any murder or burglary. American physician, the father of Chandra Levy, who was missing from 5/01/2001, and her skeletal remains were found in a Maryland park a year later. She was murdered by a stranger, but her murderer was not implicated until almost ten years later. See how the aphorism worked here, in that he did not commit burglary and murder, but became the victim of it in the loss of his daughter.

This lady has Mars and Saturn in the 8H but did not commit any murder or burglary so the technique does not work "to the T," but read below and form your opinion on the type of events that happened, as you reflect back on the aphorism.

British actress who was first noted in the U.S. film, "Ryan's Daughter," as well as the film "The Servant." While filming the movie "The Man Who Loved Cat Dancing," in 1973, she was embroiled in a scandal in which her business manager beat her up. In response to the beating, Sarah fled to actor Burt Reynolds' room and the manager committed suicide. After her 1967 marriage, her husband said, "Many men have loved my wife." She has one son. She was not a burglar or murderer, but was a victim of violence.

Conclusion

One can easily show 100 charts proving that burglary, murder or theft happened with Mars and Saturn in the 8H, and we do have around 74 charts from ADB and in our collection that can be used, but here an unbiased view is presented so that readers do not go astray being impressed with the first write up of the Guaranteed Astrologer, yet we must bow down to an astrologer like him who had the guts to write what he wrote, not many of us have that including this scribe. Normally in the West and in Modern India it is considered professional suicide to write techniques like that of Mehta Saheb, the Guaranteed Astrologer and no sane astrologer or famous writer would ever do that but what must be mentioned here is that he was the greatest in terms of writing from the heart of what he experienced and believed. Future generations are going to ridicule attempts of writers such as Mehta Saheb when they come up with aphorisms such as that of Mehta Saheb, especially when they use statistical testing but one must remember that for someone to write these kind of aphorisms he is non but the Sage of ancient times who we just value on paper and speech but not from heart, whose techniques work to the T in some charts but not in the complete gamut of statistical testing since he never meant it that way. Any professional brilliant astrologer has a 'Genie' attached to him which is his 'Intuition' and he knows that every chart is a fresh plan of God having millions of combinations which an astrologer can see only 5-6 of those combinations. Also, when the professional astrologer sees his own researches that has proved over hundreds of charts in a new chart, his Genie tells him not to predict if the event is not going to occur and he would never rely on his emotions or statistical testing of techniques to predict whereas in contrast the theoretician will rely on statistical and scientific astrology. Astrology can never be scientific in the modern term since it is a shastra and this is what the Sage Parashara hinted in the first two chapters of his BPHS yet we all have committed the biggest blunder in ignoring those two chapters which can take a lifetime to truly understand. One must dedicate himself to the memory of the greats of yesteryears.

Let us examine one of the simple principles given in Mehta Saheb's book titled New Rules and Combinations in Hindu Astrology (p. 85). Please note that it is not easy to test any technique unless you know the "complete" life of the chart bearer, and it has been noticed that a great many astrologers dismiss many techniques since they do not know the complete life of the chart bearer; or in another case, the native may still be alive and the event has yet to have taken place. If one approaches this technique of Mehta Saheb's with the sole purpose of prediction of an event, then one would be committing a mistake, since this technique is presented instead for the purpose of demonstrating a Principle Of Operation of a Planet.

Greatest Untold Secret[1]

The greatest untold secret of astrology relates to the interpretation of astrological aphorisms (shlokas), in that one brief verse does not lead toward an instant conclusion, but points to a particular facet of the chart, so that it does not escape the astrologer's attention, and so that later, it can be used with other tools to triple check, verify and view the chart "holistically." The ancient sages, who performed severe austerities and were closely guided by the gods, would offer simple, short verses that were often criticized later by modern readers because these verses did not lend a foolproof interpretation. The verse is only a clue giver, though no sage or author is ever going to stress this, as it is a common-sense approach. These verses were not given for astrologers to be able to make blind predictions, yet many try. This untold secret is a concept taught through the oral tradition by the guru to the student. Yet, it is a concept that often appears to be misunderstood, when readers misinterpret the intent of such dictums. In the yet-to-be published Last Book Of Astrology, the sage explains this concept and more:

> A chart is like a human body, where, in order for a human to walk, the body has to co-ordinate hundreds of muscles and other elements for the simple action of walking. For an event to be seen from the chart, it's never a lone planet that gives the result, it's every force in the chart coming together to make that one simple event, and this can never be forgotten while reading the classics of the sages...each aphorism [is given] either to underline a principle or to point the reader's attention toward a probable event, so that other tools can be brought in to verify if that event will happen.

The Last Book of Astrology is very clear in stating quite a profound idea in the above verse: "In order to understand how astrology works, observe the human body."

Here follows an important rule from Mehta's book New Rules and Combinations in Hindu Astrology:

Technique 2: If in any Ascendant, Mars is placed in Gemini, Libra or Aquarius sign, then one of the houses owned by Mars is damaged, and it is for the astrologer to check which house has been damaged (p. 85).

Note: One should interpret the word "damaged" in an astrological sense as "not giving appropriate full results."

Charts With Mars in Libra

For a special reason let us take right now only those charts where Mars is in Libra, since it would aspect its own sign of Aries, and in Indian Astrology, it has been believed for thousands of years that a planet aspecting its own sign gives good results[2] for the sign/house it is aspecting.

Chart 1: Anne, Princess of England

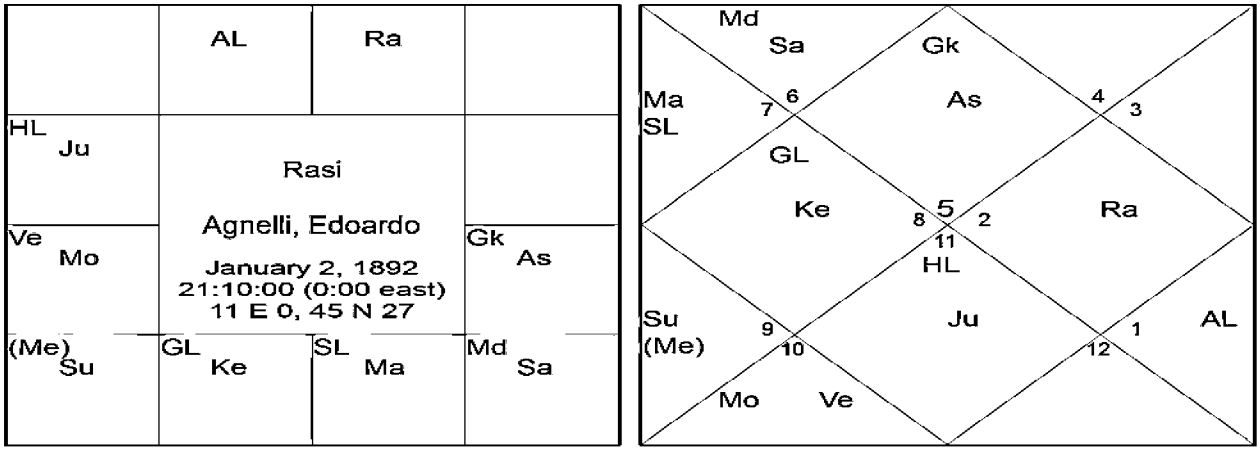

As:	1 Li 55	Su:	28 Cn 52- AK	Mo:	20 Le 54- PiK	Ma:	9 Li 43- GK

[2] A 17th or 18th century work called Jatakadesha Marga from Kerala, South of India, is probably the only work which gives an exception to this rule. This work was first made available in English by the legendary Late V. Subramaniam Shastri, and now a similar copy is available by the late S. S. Sareen, printed by Sagar Publications. The Ashtakavarga chapter and house chapters from this work are not found elsewhere.

British royalty; the daughter of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. She met Mark Phillips at the Mexico City Olympics in 1968, and he was considered an acceptable suitor. They married 11/14/1973, and had two children, Peter and Zara. Brought together by a mutual love of horses, they had developed different interests after a decade. Anne and Mark saw each other infrequently, spending much of their time apart. Though rumors had flickered on occasion that Anne or Phillips had sought solace outside of their marriage, they never reached so far as producing evidence. However, in April 1989, it came to light that one of the Queen's equerries, Comdr. Timothy Laurence, had written four intimate letters to the Princess, a scandal that was released by the press. In April 1992, the palace announced that after two years separation, Princess Anne would divorce her husband of 18 years. She was the first child of a reigning British monarch to divorce and remarry since Henry VIII. She is well known for her charity.

Now see that Mars is in the 1H alone and unspoiled except for the aspect of yogakaraka Saturn, but Mars aspects the 7H of marriage and instead of giving good results, it has resulted in 2 marriages.

Jagannatha Hora gives an 11-degree Leo Ascendant, but Kala and ADB give a 22-degree Leo Ascendant; hence we are taking 22 degrees of Leo as the Ascendant. He was of the well-known Italian family, the son of Giovanni, founder of the Fiat industrial empire. He married and had seven children.

Note that Mars is in the sign of Libra and his two houses are 9H and 4H of vehicles. If you get a similar case, and like this chart holder, both the houses are well fortified and giving great wealth and fortune, then you might think that the technique is not working. In fact, however, until his death one would not come to know which house is damaged, and until one uses the Hindu Mythology story of Ketu signifying Lord Ganesh whose head was severed, and also Ketu's head was severed by Lord Narayana. Now note that Ketu is in the 4H of vehicles and in 1935 he was in a flying type of vehicle (Vehicle-4H, Flying -Mars in 3H), read below...

All the children were still youngsters when Edoardo died in a freak accident. The seaplane in which he was a passenger struck a log in Genoa harbor, and when he stood to get out, the propeller cut open his head*, killing him instantly, on 7/15/1935. He was 43.*

American news figure, the mother of Beverly Aadland, who was, at age 15, having an affair with 46-year-old actor Errol Flynn. Born the same date and year as her husband, Florence kicked him out when she found out about the notorious affair. When Flynn died on 10/14/1959, Florence released the couple's love letters for publicity. Mother and daughter apparently made a good partying team. When police broke up a noisy party in April 1960, they found the two with a group of men in various stages of undress. Florence was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor on 8/07/1960.

An alcoholic, she started bleeding internally from cirrhosis of the liver and died in the hospital on 5/10/1965, at age 50...

Mars is in the sign of Libra, and Aries and Scorpio occupy the 11H and 6H of health, and she died at a relatively young age due to cirrhosis of the liver (from alcoholism).Chart 4: Mahatma Gandhi

Mars is in Libra aspecting the 7H of marriage, and although Mars is not alone afflicted with the company of the 12L and 8L, one can see that Mars is aspecting the 7H of marriage, and is a complete maraka, being the 7L and 2L (in Indian astrology, maraka houses are known as death-inflicting houses).

So one of the two houses, 7H or 2H, has to be heavily afflicted. The 2H is the house of food and family life, and the 7H is the house of marriage, and according to some sources, sex. Gandhi fasted more than he ate, as per the British, and his sex life or marital life was, traditionally speaking, non-existent, as he practiced celibacy. It is left to the readers to guess which house of Mars was more damaged (not giving full results); incidentally this Mars represents metals and bullets and it aspects Jupiter in Aries, and it was in the Jupiter Mahadasha he was killed by gunshot (in 1948).

Japanese Princess, the daughter of Crown Prince Naruhito and Crown Princess Masako, born in Tokyo after eight years of a childless marriage. Both mother and daughter are in good health and happy. The new princess will, as tradition demands, be named by her grandfather.

Mars is in Aquarius, Aries is 1H and Sc is 8H of inheritance, and she should ideally ascend the throne, which is her rightful inheritance. Now read below what ADB writes.

Under Japanese law, only males may assume the throne. The last reigning empress was Gosakuramachi in 1762. The imperial family has not had a son since Naruhito's younger brother, Prince Akishino, was born in 1965; the last seven royal births have been female.

Lois Rodden gives chart accuracy rating as C for this data, and no astrologer ever uses this rating. For this very reason, we have taken this chart as it's a great chart to see if rectification of data is required or not. Jagannatha Hora gives a 5-degree Libra Ascendant, whereas Kala gives a 15-degree Libra Ascendant. Now see Mars is in Aquarius, so the two houses of Mars, Aries or Scorpio, should be damaged. Aries is the 7H of relationships, where retrograde Venus is placed, and note that Venus is retrograde, being the 8L of death sitting in the 7 maraka house, and Venus is the dispositor of Saturn who sits in the 8H of death, apart from being dispositor of Mars. So something to do with relationships and death should happen, now read below what ADB says...

So Far Not Mentioned

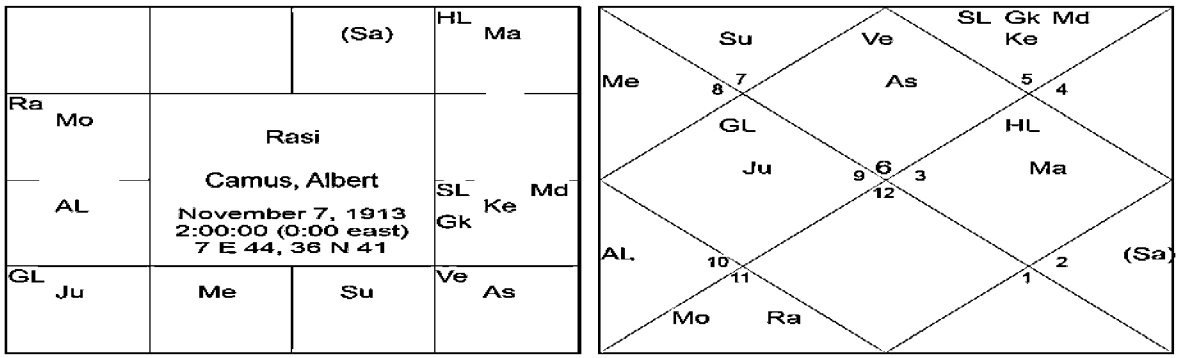

Let us divert now to another broad technique ("Mota Mota Technique") used in many variations by certain village astrologers in order to discern yogas. Observe the month of birth, for instance, if it is October, the 10th month, and then look to the 10H in the chart from the strongest among the natal ascendant, Moon or Arudha Lagna. The yogas formed in that house will dominate a major pattern of one's life. The issue is there are some variations in this technique, and some even start counting the year from the Hindu New Year, but the problem is there are many New Year charts in India due to regional variations. There is another variation which is taken from the last Solar Eclipse before one's birth. Let's stick to the New Year of January 1, as that seems to dominate in modern times, indicating the time of a mass energy shift,[3] on which numerologists often focus.

Take the case of the above chart, in which the native was born in August, which is the eighth month, so take the 8H as the focus house, in which Ketu is sitting, indicating an incurable disease. Take the case of India's chart, whose month of inception was the eighth month of August, so the 8H will dominate, which means transformation and changes, and the 8L is in 6H, so natural calamities, health issues, inheritance issues and divorce issues will dominate, in addition to religious atrocities, as it is Jupiter involved as the 8L. Take the case of Jawaharlal Nehru, who was born in November, which is the eleventh month, so we see the focus of 11H of gains and authority. His 11L is sitting in the 4H of "the throne," and he sat on the throne, so to speak, becoming the longest serving of India's Prime Ministers. Take the case of John F. Kennedy, who was born in the month of May, which is the fifth month, so take the 5H as the focus point. The 5H stands for love affairs, positions of power, or ministerial power. His 5H has A8 (sex scandals) and his 5L is sitting in the 11H of gains, indicating the power he attained. This 11L is also 6L of accidents and natural badhak (obstacles), which is aspected by Mars (guns and bullets) from the 8H of death. If you note that his whole life can be summed up in few brief words—sexual intrigues, political power and a mysterious death—all can be seen from above. Now if you use BCP[4] (Bhrighu Chakra Paddhati), you would instantly note that the 11H represents the ages of 11, 23, 35, and 47, and so on in multiples of 12. Incidentally, Kennedy died at the age of 47, and as you note the above yogas, they fit well with BCP. If one uses this House-Yoga-BCP principle, one would often find some very important years of one's life. Last, take the chart of Dr B. V. Raman, who was born in August (eighth month), which is the 8H of occultism, and its lord is Mercury, which signifies astrologers, printing and business. It incidentally sits in the 7H of business, and he was known as a great astrologer but was a genius of a businessman, too.

[3] An astrologer always has to observe energy shifts if he has to predict and advice correctly.

Chart 3: Iris Carey

Mars is in Gemini and owns 7H (Aries) and 2H (Scorpio), both maraka houses. It is difficult to determine which one is more damaged, but note that Saturn, the 4L (home/house), sits in the 7H (Aries). Now read below...

As:	26 Li 13	Su:	15 Ge 01- AmK	Mo:	4 Vi 52- PK	Ma:	2 Ge 26- DK

A natural gas leak caused an explosion in the Framingham apartment building, where Tara and Heath Carey lived with their two young daughters. The adults escaped but both girls were killed. Iris was pulled out by rescue workers but pronounced dead at the hospital, while her sister Violet had been trapped deeper in the debris.

One way of checking which house is more spoiled is to see that she died in a house fire, and Aries, one of the houses of Mars, has Saturn, the 4L, sitting in it, and Saturn is in the Arudha of the 4H and also aspecting the 4H (by its 10th aspect).

Chart 4: Goering, Female

Jagannatha Hora gives a 29-degree Leo Ascendant, whereas Kala gives 9-degree Virgo Ascendant (which matches with ABD). Mars is in Gemini, so either Aries or Scorpio should be more badly damaged. Now, Scorpio is in the 3H of parental death, a very important signification for the 3H mentioned in Brihat Parashara Hora Shastra and often missed by seasoned students. Incidentally, the 3H also contains Rahu, which signifies poison as mentioned in previous articles. Now see what is given in ADB....

Mars is in Gemini in 2H, so either the 7H of relationships and marriage (Scorpio), or the 1H (Aries) would be damaged. Let us see what ADB says about this chart....

Italian woman who loved unwisely. She was planning to become a journalist when she was detoured by a love affair with a Peruvian terrorist, Juan Leon Montero. They had a daughter, Margherita, born in Rome on 3/19/1993, but Montero returned to Peru. Maria followed him, hoping to convince him to give up his life of criminal political activism and help raise their daughter. Arrested, Juan was given 20 years prison, but after diplomatic negotiation, was exiled from Peru in August 1995 and sent back to Italy.

Thus you can see that the 7H of relationships (Scorpio) is damaged, which created this trauma. One can note several things in this chart: Jupiter is retrograde, and occupies the 7H, and is the 11L of spouse and children. The month of birth is May, the fifth month, and hence see that the 5H would be a Focus House as per the technique mentioned in this article. This 5H contains Rahu, which signifies terrorism, and this has been mentioned by us numerous times in our previous articles. The 5H also represents love and love affairs, and she fell in love with a terrorist, which does not mean that everyone having the 5H as a Focus House will fall in love with a terrorist. Such a line of erroneous reasoning is one that most budding astrologers take. However, as one progresses in astrology, he will in truth notice that Rahu occupying the 5H can indicate a stubborn temperament; difficulties with children; or, dramatic, troubled or unrequited love affairs.

Conclusion

As mentioned earlier, when you read the books of the late S. K. Mehta, you would find many techniques that may not appear to work on surface, but when experience dawns on you and you burn the midnight oil, you would notice his genius, which was often hidden by vested interests of other astrologers who did not want his greatness to be revealed, which is why they did not even bother to mention him in their writings. One has to have great courage to write what he wrote; probably he did so because he did not care what other astrologers would feel or what other astrologers would criticize, perhaps feeling confident that few were equal to his predictive ability. He lived in his own world and was a recluse, not conforming to the so called ideals set by our ancients or other contemporaries. He did not bother to create websites like us (SA) and did not spend time in Internet forums (like SA). Charts were his guru, and intuition his guide.

He was what we would call the "Rocky Balboa of Astrology," the real underdog.

The Guaranteed Astrologer

Part Four
By
Saptarishis Astrology

We thank the readers for their kind words of encouragement for the previous series. What must be remembered is that each technique that he wrote in his books was an observation and not a statistical astrologically tested technique, he found many charts of same event saw some of his principles working and then found a sub principle that he has given as sutra.

Below we would present some of his principles on which we could not find many charts yet in order that someone might be able to decipher the underlying principles behind his sutras and teach us back we have presented some of his rules with examples.

Some rules from his book 'New Rules & Combinations in Hindu Astrology'[1]

Technique 3: The author (Mr Mehta) has observed that if Mars, being the lord of the 12th house, is situated in the 3rd sign or the 4th sign, the native either elopes or is kidnapped at least once in life. But in such a case the native is not killed by the kidnappers. Page 179 from New Rules & Combinations in Hindu Astrology.

SA's Notes:

a) Mars is 12L either for Taurus Asc or for Sagittarius Asc.
b) Mars should either be in the sign of Gemini or in the sign of Cancer.
c) The native either elopes or is kidnapped once in life but in such a case is not killed by the kidnappers.
d) If such a case does not happen then one has to see what other factors avoided in such an incident from happening.
e) The classical mistake done by statistical oriented astrologers is to take 10 charts of natives who had been kidnapped and test the above technique and then come to a conclusion but what should be kept in mind is that some other yoga or combination might be working on those charts where this combination of Mehta Saheb is not to be seen. This mistake is often

[1] He has written 3 books, the first one to be read are New Dimensions in Astrology, next to be read are New Rules & Combinations in Astrology, the final one is on timing of events 'Synchronization of Periods'. One should remember that Mehta Saheb was one of those few astrologers who would predict to the date without any computers. You can buy these from SA book shop or any other book shop it does not matter to us. SA book shop can be accessed at http://shop.saptarishisastrology.com ~ SA repeated on internet forums and it has been noticed that stalwarts also do this mistake, young minds who blindly follow the stalwarts often get misguided into inappropriate type of research conducting is what we learnt from Late C S Patel. He would often repeat some other combination might be working in the chart.

f) Unfortunately, in astrology for every rule there are several exceptions and it is these exceptions that are not known to all of us. Teachers will take you to the well but never fill the cup for you to drink or open your mouth for the water to be consumed.

Do note in the chart above that Mars is the 12L and is in the 4th sign thereby working T to the rule given by the Guaranteed Astrologer S K Mehta.

Kidnap Victim - Jhora gives 2 Ta 11 whereas Kala gives 1 Ta 15
Birth Source: BC and given a AA Rating by Lois Rodden
Scottish-American Dean of Agriculture at the American University at Beirut who was taken hostage by terrorists in the mid-East hostage crisis. En route from the airport to his on-campus home, he was stopped by gunmen who sprayed his car with automatic rifle fire and took him as a hostage. Kidnapped on 9th June 1985, he was held hostage by Muslim fundamentalists and kept in a Lebanese prison for over six years, 2,347 days, incognito and chained by the ankle to a wall. His family did not even know if he were dead or alive.

Note: Out of 59 charts of various Ascendants found in ADB where kidnapping had occurred only one chart was found matching with the rule. This is for the statistical astrologer.

Technique 4: In a Leo Asc if Mars is located in 1H or 10H, the native will not stay in his birth place and he or she will have to leave the birth place in childhood. Page 59 from New Rules & Combinations in Hindu Astrology.

Mehta Saheb later adds

a) If Mars is placed in Asc, native leaves birth place in childhood.
b) Native often meets with an accident at a T point, but he or she is not injured but the vehicle is badly damaged.
c) He says that as per his observation when Mars is placed in the 4H for a Leo Asc, the natives leaves his birth place after 35-40 years of age.

Special Note

One cannot forget that for Leo Asc Mars is a Yogakaraka planet and if placed in 1H it aspects its own sign and in 10H then also it aspects its own sign Scorpio, yet as per S K Mehta it gives unfavorable results like separation from home land (in olden days it was considered unfavorable but now in modern world Indians consider it favorable) and destruction of vehicle. This was the genius of S K Mehta that he went against established norms that planet aspecting its own sign need not give good results, something that no astrologer in thousands of years of Indian astrology has observed or dared to write.

Let us see some charts where it works to the T and sometimes arbitrarily, please note arbitrarily. But it is obvious that such a technique will not always work since other planets will come in the picture. What is not so important that it did not work on 5 charts so it's useless, what is more important and worrisome is why it even worked on one chart*. Let's see in the below chart where this scribe dismissed Mehta's technique but found contradictory results.*

After finishing half of this article a mail was sent to an SA Mumbai Club member. This scribe could have blindly used Mehta Sahebs technique but the fear of failure is too heavy hence scribe kept quiet and instead of predicting just asked via email.

His reply below each point:-

a) If Mars is placed in Asc, native leaves birth place in childhood.
I never lived in my place of birth, since my father was transferred to another town only 70 miles from place of birth.

b) Natives often meets an accident in a T point*, but he or she is not injured but the vehicle is badly damaged*
Yes this happened to me on my way to my friend's baarat (wedding) in Delhi. The driver was a common friend of mine and the bridegroom. We had a head-on collision on the highway at a T junction*. It was a Honda Accord and the air-bags inflated and saved both of us. The car was totally wrecked and had to be salvaged. But, both of us walked out without a scratch on us. Amazing! isn't it?*

c) He says that as per his observation when Mars is placed in the 4H for a Leo Asc, the natives leaves his birth place after 35-40 years of age.
I've Mars and Sun in parivartan. So would like to check this rule if I would be overseas again after my 35th year?

Note that the accident happened at a T junction, just like Mehta Saheb has written in his book. Now the worry starts as to why it works inconsistently in charts below. Various theories can come up giving reasoning and exception rules for each chart below, but that would be our thinking and not the Sages thinking and wish Mehta Saheb was alive today or some of his students who are in hiding to come out and teach us.

Mars is in the 1H for a Leo Asc. 2 degree difference in Asc between Jhora and Kala.

American writer, novelist and adventurer who was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1953 for "The Old Man and the Sea" and in 1954, the Nobel Prize for Literature. His works include "The Sun Also Rises," which established his reputation in 1926, "A Farewell to Arms" and "For Whom The Bell Tolls."

He left at 18 to begin his adventures and after his doctor-father committed suicide in 1928, he never returned to Oak Park. In Cuba, where Hemingway made his home from 1939 to 1950, the ghost of Papa Hemingway is preserved as nowhere else.

One can notice that he left home at 18 and later moved to Cuba at the age of 40.

Since his death, more than 500 books have been written about Ernest Hemingway and his works.

Chart 3: Meyer, Marie M.

Mars is in 10H for Leo Asc. American accountant who became a professional astrologer, teacher and lecturer. In 1939, she founded the Astrology Club of Greater St. Louis and was appointed its honorary Life Chairman in August 1944. In 1952 she moved to California and in the late '60s she retired from accounting, but continued her practice of astrology. She later moved to Tyler, TX for three years in the early '70s, but returned to California to live in LaVerne.

Leo Asc, Mars is in 10H. Around 1 degree difference between Jhora and Kala.
British popular singer with a strong following in the London circuit when she became famous as a recording artist with "The Communards," a gay band in 1986. Morris had a transient childhood, by age 30 she had lived in 22 locations in the U.K.

British rock musician, a singer with the group "Frankie Goes to Hollywood," popular in the London gay scene. By the time he was 16 years old, he was known as a free spirit, and he was always rushing here and there, seemingly never settling down in one place for very long. Although he had a close relationship with his father, he was quick to pack up and move out, and he spent some time traveling around England, finally settling temporarily in London. He says he doesn't like to be "rooted" in any one place. Home is where his friends are, and he gets bored easily.

Leo Asc with Mars in 4H, he did not move out of place of birth immediately after birth contrary to Mehta Saheb's observation, yet he moved around quite a lot, see the concentration of planets in the 4H.

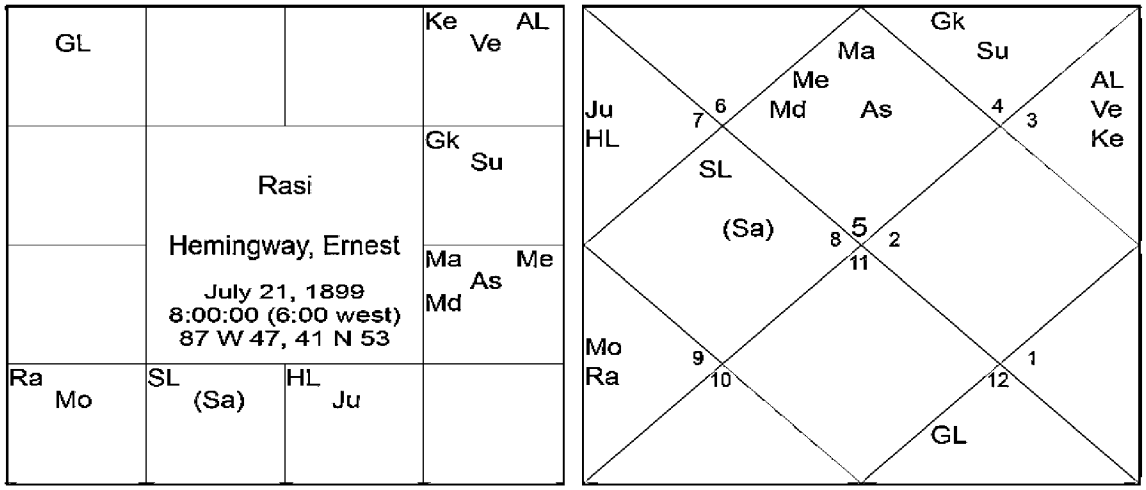

Accidents Part

In Point b) Mehta Saheb writes that

b) Natives often meets an accident in a T point, but he or she is not injured but the vehicle is badly damaged

Let us analyze few charts of Leo Asc where Mars is in 1H or 10H and see if the event as outlined by Mehta Saheb in Point b) has worked or not

Chart 1: Hemingway, Ernest

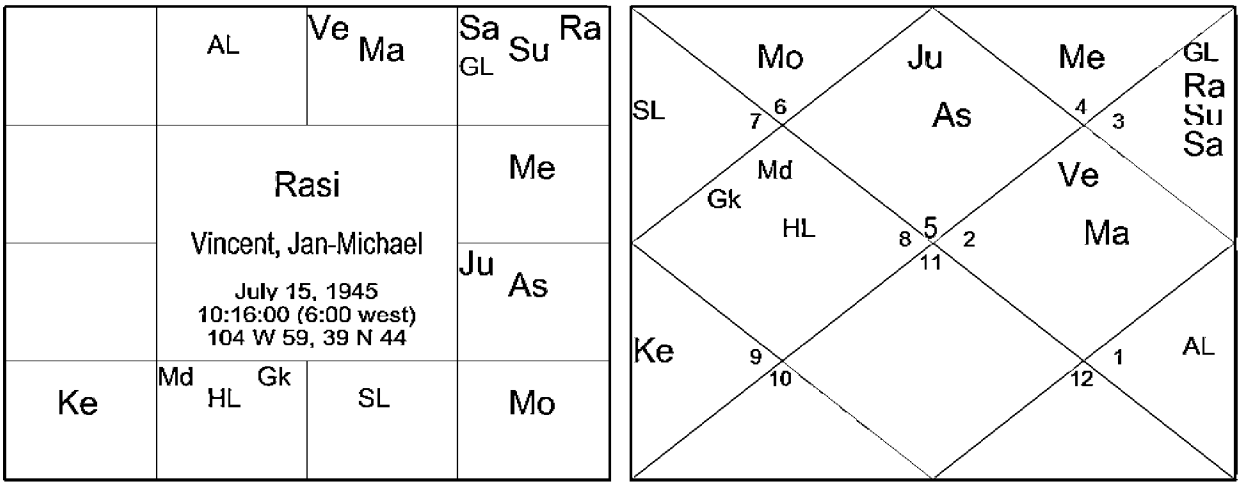

Mars is in the 1H for a Leo Asc. 2 degree difference in Asc between Jhora and Kala.

American writer, novelist and adventurer who was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for fiction in 1953.

He was in a car crash in Billings, Wyoming early morning of 4/07/1935, another in London on 6/20/1945, and another in Havana, Cuba on 7/01/1950. He was in two airplane crashes, the first at nightfall of 1/24/1954 in which he was severely injured, and a second plane crash, also in Uganda. (Please note that dating system used is American dating system, month, date and then year).

Observation: The part of car accidents is seen working but the other part of no harm to body is not seen working.

American actor with a history of substance abuse. Leo Asc with Mars in 10H. He survived a drunk driving accident on 8/26/1996 in which he broke his neck. This was a second major accident; the year before he had a crash that shattered bones in his face and damaged his left eye. Unable to work, he dropped out further. In March 1999, he had three arrests for public drunkenness and in January 2000, another arrest constituted a violation of parole conditions. So here as per Mehta's method the accidents have happened but the other part of his technique has not worked at all as body harm has been caused.

a) Asc lord is body and here Asc Lord is Sun who is with his enemy Saturn in 8th from 4H of vehicle and is with Rahu (alcohol/drugs). So harm to body is confirmed. Saturn is the 6L of accidents.
b) It was in Saturn/Saturn/Sun he had the accident on 26th Aug 1996
c) 4H has the sign Scorpio, the secret in analyzing any house is to see who are its friends and who are its enemies, who is exalted there and who is debilitated there. 4H of vehicles has sign Scorpio where Moon (mind) gets debilitated and this Moon is with Neptune, illusions and delusions via alcohol and drugs.

American child who survived a fiery blast that killed her younger sister when a propane gas tank exploded in their Moultonboro, NH cottage on May 25, 2003 at 9:45 PM. Anna suffered minor burns.

This chart does not work as per Mehta's principles of point b) Natives often meets an accident in a T point, but he or she is not injured but the vehicle is badly damaged.

Here it is not a vehicular accident but still an accident to the body and a part of the technique works that is no harm (minor burns) was done to her though her sister died.

American musician who played and sang in piano bars from the age of 17, pro for the next 20 years. In November 1965 he bought a beauty salon as an investment. The same month he turned over his new Cadillac in the rain, but suffered no injury.

Now read the last two sentences couple of times in the light of Ketu (accidents) is with Venus (beauty salon) in 10H and is with Mars (4L of vehicles) and the story unfolds. This is one of the ways of decoding conjunctions that is not known.

Coming back to Mehta's technique, it is Leo Asc, Mars is in the 10H, an accident did occur and he suffered no body harm.

Jhora gives 13 Leo whereas Kala gives 25 Leo. After adjusting time zone we get 25 Leo in Jhora which is reproduced above.

Italian singer who has cut an unusual swath through a unique path, becoming a pop star without radio and a chart-topping lyric tenor virtually without singing opera. Almost immediately after he was born, his family doctor noticed that he had great difficulty seeing. Born with an hereditary form of glaucoma he underwent his first eye operation at six months of age. After 27 more operations, he lost his sight at the age of 12 following a soccer accident in which he was hit by a ball.

Coming to Mehta's technique, it is Leo Asc, Mars is in 10H aspecting the chronic disease sign Scorpio, no vehicular accident happened only a football accident which caused him his eyesight forever. Note that Mars is in the sign of Taurus which in natural zodiac is the sign of eyes.

Readers are requested to probe other techniques of the unsung hero of Indian astrology S K Mehta who dared to write without fearing the crititism that comes from complex oriented astrologers. Readers can share their experiences on his techniques in the Guest Book section http://www.saptarishisastrology.com/gbk/gbook.php

If a technique does not work it's not a problem, if a technique works on even one chart then it's a problem as to why it worked – remember this.

The Guaranteed Astrologer

Part Five

By Veno, U.K

I was introduced to S.K. Metha[1], a great astrologer, by another great astrologer and also a great teacher, Prash Trivedi, author of "The Rahu Ketu Experience" and "The 27 Celestial Portals." He recognised the merits of S.K. Metha's work who at the time (more than a decade ago) was still largely unknown to the wider astrological community.

S.K. Mehta had through his observations of thousands of charts, adopted his own unique way of determining strengths of planets in signs. This principle was explained to me by Prash Trivedi before meeting Mr. Metha in person. In my personal meeting with S.K. Metha we discussed other aspects of Jyotish but it is worth mentioning this particular technique, as it was fundamental to his interpretative approach.

It is a very simple and logical method which

[1] Late S K Mehta, is the one whose techniques were highlighted in the series 'The Guaranteed Astrologer – Part 1, 2. 3 & 4' in Vol 9 pre- release of Saptarishis Astrology Magazine - SA gives importance to the element of the sign the planet is placed in i.e. fire, air, earth, water. I have seen tropical astrologers utilise this type of principle in similar ways, more so than Vedic astrologers who have many other techniques for determining strengths and weaknesses of planets. However Prash Trivedi really extolled this perspective of S. K. Mehta and it exemplifies the directness and simplicity of his approach.

The basic approach is that if a planet is exalted in a particular sign belonging to a particular element like water for example, then it can be treated as exalted in all water signs. If it is debilitated in a water sign, then it can be said to be debilitated in any other water sign.

For example if Jupiter is exalted in Cancer a water sign, it would make sense that Jupiter is happiest in the other water signs Scorpio and Pisces, which can easily bring out its fluid and expansive qualities.

If Jupiter is debilitated in Capricorn an earth sign, it makes sense that Jupiter is least happy in other earth signs Taurus and Virgo whose practical earthiness does not vibe with Jupiter's uplifting qualities.

A planet like Venus which is harmed in Virgo (an earth sign) will not like earth signs much, but this rule is cancelled when in its own sign Taurus, so it can be seen as somewhat neutral in Taurus.

Similarly Moon is neutral in Cancer and Mars is neutral in Scorpio. Even though a certain neutrality happens, it could be said that because Mars gets debilitated in water, Scorpio can bring out some very troubling results for Mars. This is because Mars is a fiery sharp force and it loses its power and focus in water. In Scorpio this could make it highly destructive in some very negative aspects. Mars in Scorpio can act more troubled than brave and fearless. Even though Cancer is Moon's own sign, it can be considered a weakened placement for Moon because it tends to cause too much instability.

Prash Trivedi went on to explain that a planet occupying an incompatible sign element can act with less refinement. Thus Jupiter in Taurus or Virgo can gravitate towards more base or denser mediums of expression. It can indicate a person who is more materialistic or closed rather than seeking higher expressions of wisdom, evolution and openness. Venus in Taurus could indicate more pleasure seeking rather than higher expressions of love and compassion. From a refined perspective Venus would function better in Cancer than Taurus, Venus being exalted in water signs.

It is seen that S.K. Mehta was utilizing this method not necessarily from Prash Trivedi's psychological/spiritual perspective but in determining positive and negative results in charts on a very material and practical level.

I am not sure if S.K. Mehta created this table originally or if Prash Trivedi refined S. K. Mehta's technique by creating this table, but nevertheless here is a table showing the planet's best, 2nd best, 3rd best, and worst placements in the different signs (which are represented by their numbers).

Planets	Best Signs	2nd Best Signs	3rd Best Signs	Worst Signs
Sun	(Fire) 1, 5, 9	(Earth) 2, 6, 10	(Water) 4, 8,12	(Air) 3, 7,11
Moon	(Earth) 2, 6, 10	(Fire) 1, 5, 9	(Air) 3, 7, 11	(Water)4,8,12
Mars	(Earth) 2, 6, 10	(Fire) 1, 5, 9	(Air) 3, 7, 11	(Water) 4, 12
Mercury	(Earth) 2, 6, 10	(Air) 3, 7, 11	(Fire) 1, 5, 9	(Water)4,8,12
Venus	(Water)4, 8, 12	(Air) 3, 7, 11	(Fire) 1, 5, 9	(Earth) 6, 10
Jupiter	(Water)4, 8, 12	(Fire) 1, 5, 9	(Air) 3, 7, 11	(Earth)2,6,10
Saturn	(Air) 3, 7, 11	(Earth) 2, 6, 10	(Water)4,8, 12	(Fire) 1, 5, 9

Here is just a small example where Mr Mehta employs this technique in one of his books:-

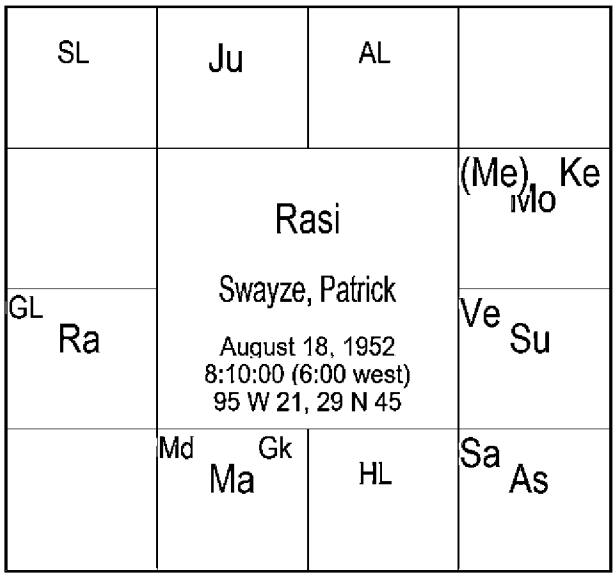

" The lone reason of this native in getting married too late is the VII lord Jupiter which is in XII that too in its fall.(crossing the same stars which it crosses while crossing the 10th sign) You will see that Venus is also afflicted by the Sun and Saturn."

Jupiter in this chart occupies Taurus which using Mr. Mehta's technique makes it debilitated. In traditional astrology we would put emphasis on the 7th lord/karaka for husband occupying the 12th house in an enemy's sign rather than a fallen sign making it difficult to find a suitable partner, plus the other factors Mehta mentions.

In general observation I have not always seen the planet to give bad results in an incompatible sign element for the non-live issues, but it can cause harm for some of the live issues.

Here is the chart of American actor Patrick Swayze, who died in 2009 after a long battle with pancreatic cancer.

In his chart both his Ascendant lord Mercury and Moon occupy the 11th house in the sign of Cancer conjunct Ketu.

Mercury in this case would be considered debilitated and Moon would be suffering not only because of its conjunction with a node and a debilitated planet, but because it does not function well in a water sign even if its own sign. Moon would give rise to psychological problems and Mercury will harm the physical wellbeing. It does not however seem to have harmed Patrick Swayze's wealth and fortune or his career success, although it did cause fluctuations in the steadiness of his career. 10th and 11th lord together in the 11th is a strong combination for success. Also from what I have read he was greatly admired by his peers and social circle, an 11th house matter. Mercury in this case is also retrograde and retrograde planets in their fall can also bring some exceptionally positive results. Mercury is also exalted in navamsa occupying an earth sign but S.K. Mehta did not rely on navamsa.

Swayze suffered a serious accident in the late 90's when he fell from a horse and hit a tree during filming. This caused him to break both his legs and suffer four detached tendons in his shoulder. Here Mercury is having its fallen influence in regards to the 10th and 11th house of legs, two malefics Saturn and Mars aspecting the 10th.

This was not the first time he suffered problems with his legs. He suffered chronic knee injuries from a young age and had to endure multiple surgeries in his life. 11th house also represents older siblings, and his older sister committed suicide, again illustrating the adverse side of Moon and Mercury occupying water signs with the nodes. Venus was also pretty problematic in all these affairs. S.K. Metha gave a lot of credence to the impact of malefics. In the chart waning Moon, Mercury and Ketu become malefic, so the 10th and 11th house have a lot of malefic influence with Saturn and Mars also aspecting 10th.

If we took a traditional approach, weight would be given to the inimical relationships happening in the chart, planetary aspects and results using Chandra Lagna and Navamsa. There is a distinction between the "nature of enmity" and the "nature of debilitation" in traditional astrology. Enmity can give mixed results equally strong depending on the nature of lordships etc, where as debility shows more weakness in the manifestation of the planet's natural potential. Patrick Swayze could not be said to have been born with weak legs or flexibility, but the relationship he had with his legs doing all kinds of athletics, gymnastics and dancing brought harm due to the inimical relationships of the Cancer planets. It is worth taking into account that Mehta's definition of what debilitation "encompassed" was probably a fairly broad one.

Shoulders are ruled by the 3rd house and as we have already established Mars in the 3rd house in the sign of Scorpio will face some problems. It is also aspected by Saturn. His Mars rules both the 3rd and 8th house so can indicate accidents whilst riding. Mars is also debilitated in the navamsa making Mars quite potent in its negative expression. Jupiter rules the 4th house of vehicles and occupies the 8th house.

He suffered a lot of battles with alcohol and addiction. With a troubled Mars in the third house ruling one's motivation and will and the emphasis on negative water in the chart, we could see how these inclinations could arise. His drinking brought out a side to him which was very destructive and harmful for his marriage life, Mars being debilitated in its traditional debilitation sign in the navamsa 7th house.

Mars debilitated means it is aspecting its exalted sign on the 9th house giving many noble qualities and a genuine interest in higher philosophical knowledge.

Mercury and Moon are both aspecting their exalted signs on the 5th house which boosted his potential for fame, Rahu also being placed there.

He was a very talented dancer and in that respect his Mars and Mercury were powerful contributions to this talent and the debilitation sign placements did not detract from that, dancing being related to the third house of bodily movement, 11th house of legs and also 12th house of feet. In his chart Venus and Sun are powerful in the 12th house.

He had a heavy smoking addiction showing some harm to the respiratory system, again illustrating the negative aspect of the Cancer placements.

As an additional commentary on his chart even though slightly off the subject, his need to seek release through smoking, said to be a three pack a day habit, was very powerful because of his 2nd lord Venus being conjunct Sun in Sun's fiery sign of Leo in the 12th house, 12th house being the place where we seek release. It is also the place of self undoing and intoxication. Even though he did practise transcendental meditation and other spiritual practices because of Sun occupying its own sign in this house, smoking was also very much part of this need to find release. Venus was not working harmoniously with his Sun, Sun and Venus being mutual enemies. In the navamsa Venus occupies its fallen sign and is conjunct Rahu[2], a highly addictive impulse. Venus in the earthy sign of Virgo shows the addiction connected to the Vata humour in the body. This is happening in the 9th house in the navamsa indicating that he must have pondered on many deeper subjects during this activity, 9th house being the house of higher thought and religion, Venus also ruling 9th in the rasi.

Pancreas are related to the sign of Leo. Having the conflicting Venus with Sun in the 12th house, there was a strong connection between his smoking and the damage to his pancreatic system.

In afterthought, this additional commentary seems apt to include in an essay on S.K. Mehta. At the time I met him, he mainly discussed his innumerable insights on medical astrology and diagnosis. It seemed to be one of his favourite subjects.

[2] There are two movies of his which stand out & broke records one is Dirty Dancing, a musical. Particularly note his Venus is debilitated in Navamsa, Venus denotes art etc. The next big thing was the movie called Ghost which had a great impact on audiences worldwide, connect it with Rahu in the 9H of future life or some take it as past life. The movie was about the character played by Patrick dying and he comes back from the dead as a Ghost to save his love. Note Venus (love) Rahu (karma/spirits) in 9H in D9 and his chart unfolds to the greatest impact he would make in the hearts of people around the world. ~SA
